PERSONAL TAX BILLS OUT

First Time

Majority. While the court is expected to finish its work on certiorari this week, a final ruling this week is a fairly good bet. Toward the "dispositional" end of the spectrum, the court may well find that the lower court's ruling was "plainly" erroneous and affirm it. It has always been assessing. The Assessor's assessment of the value this year.

The law, however, is not so simple. The Board of Assessors is not a court of law. It is a body of laymen, and its decisions are subject to review by the courts. The Assessor's assessment of the value of a property is not a court of law. It is a body of laymen, and its decisions are subject to review by the courts. The Assessor's assessment of the value of a property is not a court of law. It is a body of laymen, and its decisions are subject to review by the courts.

If a property owner does not file a return as required by law, he can still ask the assessors to place a return on his behalf. He will have placed the value of his personal property too high. The assessors can however require him to pay 50 percent of their value. If the owner of such a personal property does not file a return, the return is filed, the order is issued by the tax authority and the assessors will assess the value.

In just years in Washington the Board of Assessors has administered a 10 percent increase in taxes on those who should have paid personal taxes. They have been able to do so and still maintain a low tax rate, because valuations of the personal property are high. The town and municipal expenditures have been modest. Now that greatly increased municipal expenditures, especially in the past few years, have become necessary for the local assessors to find new sources of revenue.

In effect, a $500 "personal" tax bill means the assessors believe the person assessed has personal property worth at least $1,500.

Charles E. Johnson, president of the Board of Assessors, admits the Board can be wrong about value and if any one gets a "personal property" tax bill off with the val-petition for an abatement in the Board. After which the assessors will inspect his property and decide whether an abatement should be granted. Many times, however, the assessor's inspection results in a higher valuation than the one arrived at by guess. The chairman Cassidy stated that increased municipal expenditures have increased the need for raising the basis for assessment of "personal property" taxes. In about many instances, people assessed appeared before the Board and requested a reduction. He complained because neighbors known to have richer households (limousines, etc.) were not assessed. In an effort to be fairer to the poorer citizens, the lower figure has been taken.

Several things should be remembered by the recipient of "personal tax" bill. First of all, the assessors have a right to inspect the property. Second, tax personal property in excess of $1,000. Whether or not he made a declaration of his property, automatic assessment of generally specified personal property is required by statute. Everyone can have $1,000 worth of personal property, free, and everyone has the right to appeal a personal property assessment. The process begins first to the Board of Assessors and finally to the Appellate Board. Finally, if a property holder wants to be on the safe side, he can file a return with assessments for taxes for arrival at a just tax.

The Winchester Assessor verified the law requiring that the personal property return be filed with the State of Maryland 28 days before January 31, deadline. According to Chacona, Cassidy they were not late in the response.

The number of taxpayers for "personal property" taxes

This year went up sharply, being sent out of 544 more than the 1,157 in 1946.

JUPITER JUMPS MOON!

Freyer Finishes First!

Astronomically speaking, a most unusual phenomenon occurred in the heavens last Saturday evening, when Jupiter played ring-around-the-rosy with the moon. Nautically speaking, last Saturday afternoon an equally amazing and miraculous event occurred on the Mystic, when Carl Freyer piloted George Field's Hardtack II to victory over the Winchester Snipe Fleet. Scientists can offer a suitable explanation for Jupiter's lambo, but no one, least of all Freyer, can provide a laudable explanation.

TENNIS BUMPERS SQUIRM

Bellows Falls

Under the persistent and active urging of the manager, Whit Gray, the bumper list operated by the Winchester Tennis Association has been showing a certain amount of activity.

Thanks in part to the co-operation of his friends the manager has succeeded in retaining his original high rank, but his eternal and ever well-wishing opponent, Deb Bellows, went down before the onslaught of the up-and-coming Charles Watson, the Massachusetts Intercollegiate champ. In fact, rumor and even affidavit have it that Charlie took Jimmy Coon one day, entirely with Jimmy's consent of course, but the committee had to insist that all players operate within the time honored rules of the list. Next the bottom of the list, Larry Smith tried out his prowess to no avail against the speedy Roger Wright.

As of 2 p. m. July 1, 1947, the players rank in sequence as follows:

C. V. O. JUNIORS WIN AT GINN FIELD 7-5

The St. Mary's Junior boys' baseball team defeated the Immaculate Conception Junior nine on Saturday morning, June 28, with a fine rally of 4 hits and a bare on balls sandwiched within. The winning run came over the plate on a hard smash, out at first, by catcher Dave Barry of St. Mary's on which no play could be made at the plate. It was a well placed smash. The St. Mary's boys were losing 6-2 when they came to bat in the last inning and Waldon led off with a hit. Flaherty walked, then Connolly, Rand and Sammy Kenton all hit safely with Dave Barry credited with knocking in the winning run.

Rand and Flaherty divided the pitching chore with Flaherty gaining credit for the win.

Rand was the big striker for the winners with his 3 hits out of 4 times at bat and also his 3 runs driven in.

Taylor led in the stolen base department for St. Mary's with 3 pilfered bases.

Sammy Kenton's fielding featured the winners for he made several fine stops and throws. Young, St. Mary's outfielder made 2 hits and stole a base. For St. Mary's, Rand allowed hit when he was in the box and Flaherty 4 hits.

St. Mary's made 9 hits off DeFilippo who held St. Mary's at bay until the last inning. He knocked in two runs for the losers. McManis who played first base for the Immaculates turned their big batter with a home run to his credit with a man on. This came in the sixth and made the score 6-2 at the time. It should have been the crushing blow for St. Mary's but they came back and staged the rally mentioned above. For St. Mary's Dave Barry caught a nice game and though the sun high wilted the players, he backed up first and third on plays to those bases in true league fashion.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

SCRA NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS START MONDAY, JULY 11

The Snipe Class International Racing Association's first National Championship races are scheduled to start next Monday, July 14. The races are being sponsored by the Winchester Boat Club but because of limitations of the Marblehead Harbor from the Corinthian Yacht Club.

This blue ribbon event has attracted more than 25 of the most skillful snipe skippers in America. Only club champions are permitted to enter, and entries have been received from as far south as Florida and as far west as California. And little wonder, because the winner of the National Championship gets a free trip to Switzerland to compete in the Internationals.

Winchester's representative will be Don Simonds, Jr., who has piloted his sleek, sky-blue "Snub" to victories in 11 starts.

There will be races Monday through Friday and on Friday evening a huge banquet will be held at the Hotel Hawthorne in Salem. Members of the Winchester Boat Club and their friends are invited to attend both the races and the banquet. There are splendid vantage points from which to follow each race, and tickets for the Lobster Dinner on Friday evening are now available for only $3.25 per person. Identification badges for guest privileges at the U.S. or Foreign countries call "Woburn 1234".

For reservations or information on ships, planes or trains or hotels anywhere in the U.S. or Foreign countries call "Woburn 1234". J. F. McGrath Travel Service.

ST. MARY'S C. Y. O. THIS WEEK-END

St. Mary's C. Y. O. boys' intermediate baseball team gained a final victory by coming from behind in the 7th (the last) inning to score two runs, tying the game which was played at Wakefield Monday evening July 7. St. Joseph's team was the opposition. The final score was 2-2. Don Kenton was the big factor in gaining the win, both in pitching and hitting. Jack Dee came through with a game-saving single in the 7th to score Kenton who had doubled home Kelly who had walked. Dee had to really exert himself on the hit and veritably hurled himself at first base to beat the pig. It was very very close and was the only college try that paid off.

Kenton continued his streakout habit by getting 11 of St. Joseph's batters via the strikeout route. This brings his total for three games to date to 27 strikeouts. This is an average of nine per game. He held St. Joseph's to two long hits while our side made four hits. Kenton and Dee made two each. Our boys were handicapped by only getting a little pre-game batting practice with Jack Edwards serving them up. Coaching creditably at third and first base were Jimmy Conahan and McElhinney, respectively.

Wakefield had the hidden ball trick pulled on them by Nowell at first base who also made a spectacular catch of a fly ball over the foul line with his back to the plate. Freddy Keith, who reminds us more each day of the "old gas house gang," made a fine catch of a towering foul and also later got a man out at the plate with fine blocking. There were a few errors that hurt our chances of winning but the team is really shaping up now and will really go places.

For Wakefield Rich struck out 4 men and allowed 4 hits. St. Mary's team looked fine in their new uniforms which were of gray flannel and red trimming with red caps. Numbers on the back of the shirts led a big league atmosphere to the team also. Transportation on Wakefield by truck was furnished as usual by the ever popular Mr. Jim Conahan, loyal K. of C. member, who is a great lover of kids and is rapidly becoming the number one fan.

The box score:

St. Mary's	St. Joseph's
Runs 10	Runs 2
Hits 10	Hits 4
Errors 0	Errors 1
Bases on balls 1	Bases on balls 1
Strikes out 11	Strikes out 4

WINCHESTER SWIMMING CLUB NOTES

The Winchester Swimming Club makes its first start of the new season Saturday when its member swimmers journey to Portsmouth, N. H. to participate in the NEAAU sponsored swimming meet at the Wentworth High School.

Couch Helen Jay Carroll has entered practically her entire list of swimmers, headed by her ace, Bob McGrath and Barbara Donahue. Bob, NEAAU 220 yard freestyle and Massachusetts State 220 yard freestyle champion as well as NEAAU 150 yard junior individual medley champion, is considered the senior 440 yard event; while Barbara, former NEAAU and Massachusetts State 100 yard freestyle title holder, will swim in the open hundred.

Another Winchester title-holder who is to compete is Beverly Gay, NEAAU 220 yard freestyle champion, who will probably swim both the 50 and 100. Also competing are Marge Carroll, Sally Morgan and Lynn Atkins, among the girls, and "Wimpy" Bartlett, entered in the 440.

John Power and Tom McGowan.

The local youngsters have been working out regularly in anticipation of the meet and hope to make a good showing. They are making the trip, with Coach Carroll, in a bus being sent down from New Hampshire for several Boston residents and leaving from the Hotel Lenox in Boston.

Besides those competing in the various races, Winchester is sending its smooth-swimming water ballet group to the meet to put on an exhibition. In this attractive group are Marge Carroll, Beverly Gay, Sally Morgan, Lynn Atkins, Betty McLean, Lynn Atkins, Ginny Gaffney, Ginny Dyer, John Thomas.

Winchester was well represented among the winners in the senior track meet on July 5th at Camp Wyanoke, Wolfboro, N. H. with seven of the nine runners awarded going to Winchester boys. Roger Creelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Creelman, 45 Salisbury street, won the blue ribbon in the 100 yard dash and placed second in the high jump. Robert N. Oxford, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Oxford, 15 Chestnut street, placed first in the shot put, and second in the 100 yard dash. John and Richard Richmond, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Richmond, 4 Grove street, placed in all three events. Richard placed in the high jump, and second in the 100 yard dash and the shot put, while Richard placed second in the high jump. The boys won their events in competition with over 40 boys in their division.

11- The Town Softball League passed the halfway mark of its schedule during the past week with the teams squared away for a battle for play-off positions right down to the final game.

The Sons of Italy, the Sachems, and the Christopher Columbus Club look to be fairly certain of play-off positions with the other teams fighting for that fourth place spot. The Christopher Columbus Club has been the sensation of the past three weeks, winning six out of their last seven games. The other teams are rapidly improving, also, as evidenced by upset victories of the K. of C. over the Red Shirts and the Tab Thumpers over the Sachems on a fine out-pitching by V. F. W. Clark. The Sons of Italy won an impressive game over the Barreudas by a 1 to 1 score featured by home runs by Al Tibando and Robert DeGrosso.

The best game of the season for thrills and excitement was the 8 to 7 victory by the Sons of Italy over the V. F. W. on July 12. This game was replete with sensational plays and the suspense was terrific as observers clasped their hands in prayer. The Vets had a 5 to 3 lead going into the seventh but the Sons of Italy came up with three runs to take the lead, largely due to a two-run homer by Al Tibando. The Vets scrapped back and scored a run to tie up the game at six all. In the top half of the ninth the Sons of Italy scored again but the Vets fought back to match that one and had the winning run thrown out at the plate. The teams continued to slug until the 12th when the Sons of Italy scored a run on some daring base running by Sam Tibando. With one away Sam Tibando, after the next batter died and after the next batter died to the plate and as the second baseman held the ball he put on a burst of speed to slide under a high throw to win the game. It was a great game for the Sons of Italy to win and a tough one for the Vets to lose.

The game of the week was resulted in a 1 to 1 victory for the Sachems over the Sons of Italy before the largest crowd of the season. Under Redding, pitched superb ball for the victors, granting only six hits and would have had a shut out except for a wild pitch with a man on third. The Sachems made nine hits, including a home run by Jim Gonn. Many observers credit the V. F. W. with tied many changes in the town.

Mr. Sydney W. Faulkner of Dedham, Mass., former Winchester boy whose home was in the old Manchester house at 310 Main street, was in town this week visiting his cousin, Jim Pennington of Stoughton, looking up old friends. It is nearly 30 years since he last saw Winchester and he no longer credit the V. F. W. with tied many changes in the town.

TWO BOXFIRES NIGHT BEFORE

Winchester boys had two boxfires the night before "New Bedford" the Fourth, one on the sand-pit of Pickering street and the other in the sand-pit of Irving street. Permits were secured from Chief James E. Callahan of the Fire Department, who was assured by the boys that there would be no "funny business." The Chief expressed himself as greatly pleased with the way the boys conducted themselves, both at the bonfires and afterwards, when most youngsters, at least, went directly home.

The Pickering street bonfire was about 15 feet high and was "reached off" at 10 o'clock. The Irving street pile was perhaps five feet higher and was lighted at 11:15.

I wish to notify my many friends that I have sold my business to the Mazine Motor Co. and thank them for their friendship and their generous patronage in the years that I have been established in Winchester.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Winchester Hospital and the Harrington Family

An occasional vista into the workings of the Winchester Hospital will be opened to those who read this column from week to week. The earlier days of the Hospital's service are rich in records of courageous and generous citizens who made the Hospital possible through gifts of time and money in astonishing amount. We have chosen the Harrington family for this week's theme because its interest comes into the story very early, and because its character is typical of Winchester and New England in its combination of good business sense, civic loyalty and unwavering faith.

The funds which Mrs. Sophronia Harrington had at her disposal were accumulated through keen business acumen invested in Boston's wool trade. Her sons, Frank and George, succeeded their father in this business, and when Frank died in young manhood Mrs. Harrington was moved to build as a memorial to him the hospital whose lack the town felt increasingly from day to day. Ten years of service by the Visiting Nurse Association had only made this lack more apparent, since the nurses brought to attention many cases for whom home care was inadequate.

The $50,000 which Mrs. Harrington offered for this purpose in 1900 filled the town's heart with gratitude and relief. A group of seven men, headed by Mr. Lewis Parkhurst, was chosen by Mrs. Harrington "to give assistance and cooperation as to the best means of putting her plan into effect." The announcement of the acceptance of the fund was made in January, 1900, and the committee immediately began inquiry and consultation. An Act of Legislature incorporated the Winchester Hospital, and money was accepted under this Act.

When spring, 1900, arrived, the Trustees had outlined the plan, and the best authority that the hospital Winchester needed could be built, including the use of suitable land. The hospital was to have 20 beds, 12 in wards and eight private. The town's doctors gave unanimous approval. Expressions of community interest made it reasonably certain that annual gifts would help materially in meeting the inevitable deficit in operating expenses. But voices were raised to warn that all possible contingencies should be foreseen and provided for, and that an endowment of not less than $50,000 should be secured. Gifts to this end were requested, but by September the necessary sum had not been secured. Caution and discouragement combined to make the Trustees unwilling to proceed into an uncertain future, and they requested legal authority to return the money to Mrs. Harrington. The Commonwealth's Attorney General gave the necessary permission.

The hospital project was temporarily at a standstill. Two factors, however, assured its ultimate realization. One was the unflinching courage of the women who administered the Visiting Nurse Association and the other was the readiness of Mrs. Harrington to stand by with her financial assistance. In 1911, a year and a half after the dissolution of the original plan, a meeting in the small Town Hall voted to support a cottage hospital for two years, and "then, if it is successful, it will become one of the established institutions of the town." Again Mrs. Harrington supplied the major part of the small sum invested in the renting of the 22-room house at the corner of Washington and Lincoln streets, and its furnishing for use as a hospital by a committee composed of Mrs. D. N. Skillings, Mrs. Preston Pond, Mrs. Frederick Snyder and Mrs. M. A. Cummings. It was estimated that the cottage hospital would cost its supporters $3,500 annually in addition to income from patients. Such good managers did the officers prove, however, that at the end of the project's third year, in March, 1913, they were able to report that "money subscribed for the two years' trial augmented by earnings and gifts, has besides equipping the Hospital, been sufficient to keep it running for three years and one month, and leave a balance of $822.80."

In addition to the administration of the cottage hospital, its committees were finding time to plan for the larger modern hospital for which the need was increasingly evident. A week of solicitation in October, 1913, by one hundred women had collected $24,000 as the nucleus of a building fund. In response to this challenge the men of the town added to the fund, and brought the total up to $40,000. Although this was less than needed by $10,000, contracts were signed in the spring of 1916, and ground was broken on April 15th for the new building on the Highland avenue property.

The decision to begin work before completion of the fund was explained in the following words by the Building Committee, composed of Mrs. D. C. Sanborn, Mrs. Frederick S. Snyder, Mrs. Mott A. Cummings, Mrs. William I. Palmer and Miss M. Alice Mason: "At that beautiful building on the hill grows from day to day, the people's interest in it will grow; all will desire a share in Winchester Hospital, then the interest will materialize and become of practical value, so that when the building is ready for patients no mortgage could be seen in the sky."

Mrs. Harrington's ultimate plan for helping to secure the future of Winchester Hospital, as expressed in her will, was a gift of $50,000 to the endowment fund upon the completion of the new hospital, provided it was free of debt. When the building was nearly finished,

Mr. George Harrington, executor of his mother's will, added $8,000 to the $50,000 endowment gift, and the $58,000 Hospital was completed free of debt. Patients were received in the new building in May, 1917. Another of the many gifts by support a first grade hospital? These questions have been answered in a convincing affirmative. No humanitarian enterprise ever yielded better results excepting Crawford from his Florida home schools and churches it is the in words which showed justifiable pride in the part his family had taken.

AR STOLEN FROM FRANCIS CIRCUIT GARAGE

At 2:25 Tuesday morning, Police Headquarters was notified by Mrs. Loretta Donnelly Cox of 9 Francis circuit that her Dodge sedan had just been stolen from its garage.

Mrs. Cox had been aroused by a noise at the garage and got up in time to see a man pushing her machine out onto Francis circuit. From where he drove off in what she took to be a northerly direction. She described the man as tall, heavy, and wearing a light suit.

All police cars and officers were alerted, but no trace of the stolen car was seen. The machine was recovered by the Cambridge Police in that city Tuesday night.

Mrs. Cox told the police that the garage doors were shut and that no keys had been left in the machine.

WITH ARMY IN JAPAN

Mrs. Thomas W. Cogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cogan of 54 Bradstreet street, Winchester, is serving with the 1st Cavalry Division, The 1st Cavalry Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. William C. Chase, is on occupation duty in the Tokyo-Yokohama area.

Overseas since November of 1946 Mr. Cogan is assigned to D Troop of the 7th United States Cavalry Regiment which is stationed in Tokyo. The 7th Cavalry was organized by George Armstrong Custer and participated in the Indian Wars where it first won fame. During the recent war it fought in the South Pacific and was the first regiment in Tokyo on that historic 8th of September, 1945. At the present time D Troop is undergoing an intensive training schedule to earn the Expert Infantryman's Badge.

Prior to entering the Regular Army, Mr. Cogan was graduated from Winchester High School.

"DAYS OF YORE"

Clippings from the STAR Files

25 YEARS AGO

July 21, 1922

Our town experienced another wave of hot weather this week, Monday and Tuesday being scorers. In fact many Tuesday was the worst day thus far of the year, although there was a pool being and the glass only registered 96.

Mr. Clinton E. Farnham was unanimously elected Principal of the Winchester High School at a special meeting of the School Committee held Tuesday evening. He was selected from a number of candidates from New England.

What is thought to have been an attempt to wreck the work train used to convey strike-breakers from the Boston & Maine Railroad shops at Wilmington was made just before the Wednesday train Saturday afternoon. The train takes the strike-breakers out to the shops in the morning and back to Boston in the afternoon, on return passing through Winchester around 5 o'clock. Stones and iron were placed on the track evidently with the intention of wrecking the train. The obstruction was discovered by an out-bound train and removed to avert the wreck.

Renovation work is underway at the Cabnet Club. New stone work is being built at the carriage entrance and other needed repairs are being made.

Letters bearing the new special delivery stamp showing the messenger driving a motorcycle instead of the bicycle he has ridden for so long, will be delivered to you as usual by a carrier on foot.

The boys at Little's farm went out on strike Tuesday morning, refusing to work unless their demands were met and creating so much disturbance that the police were telephoned for. Officers went to the scene and aided the strikers on their way home.

The old established wholesale jewelry firm of A. Paul & Co. of Boston, was incorporated last week. The incorporators included two well known residents of Winchester, Mr. D. D. Burns of Wildwood street, who was elected vice president and Mr. G. A. Felber of Bacon street, who was elected secretary.

At a special meeting of the City Council of Woburn, Tuesday evening it was voted to build a bridge over the Abenon River on Washington street at a cost of $2,000.

Miss Rebecca Bartlett and Miss Carolyn Breen have passed their examinations for Wellesley and will enter the college this fall.

Work was begun on the Bacon street bridge over the river, which has been closed to travel for the past four months, the first of the week. The contractor began the erection of the shelter at the location on Monday, the shanty being built on the railroad side of the river.

Daily Philosophy
A fool and his money are soon spotted.
Never trust a man who is not willing to trust others.
It is the same today as of yore, too many eye-openers will close the eye.
Judicious silence is an eloquent indication of wisdom.
In the old days, men when at the theatre went out between the acts for a smoke, but now they grin and bear it.

Why not have the tracks of the Arlington & Winchester Street Railroad pass close to the station through Common street, instead of on Church street in front of the Congregational Church as being arranged? It would certainly be of more convenience to the public and also of financial benefit to the road to have the cars run next to the station. Patrons of the steam road during stormy weather would not then be compelled to walk quite a distance to and from the cars, and wait in the rain or snow.

Miss Dolle Van Voorhis, daughter of Congressman Van Voorhis, Zanesville, Ohio, has been the guest of Mrs. S. W. McCall. The young lady had a most delightful visit and departed with a high regard for Winchester.

The Middlesex County National Bank commenced this week to issue their own bank notes. The design of the bill is neat and handsome.

A large number of fishing permits have been issued this season by Commissioner Brackett. For a healthful pleasant afternoon the reservoirs are just the place, even if the fish should not be in a biting mood.

Mr. A. Raymond and Col. Ramsdell have bought the trotting horse "Snowflake." The horse has a fast record and has been resold to Mr. Alex. Macdonald who will use him in his family carriage.

The high wind of Monday and Tuesday was very disastrous to shade and fruit trees. Many apple trees being ruined.

The bicycle has interfered seriously with the laundry business.

Mr. S. S. Langley started on a trip to Europe Monday. He will be absent about five weeks.

Mr. Henry W. Richardson went to the wilds of Maine Monday where he will spend two weeks in hunting and fishing.

The street department has the steam drill at work on the town ledge getting out stone for the streets. The material is taken to the centre and put through the crushing machine. How much less expensive it is to have a portable crusher at the ledge!

Monday, after viewing Washington street, the County Commissioners drove over Highland avenue, and were very profuse in their admiration of the grand view obtained and of the future popularity of the avenue as a place of residence. They refrained, however, from saying anything about the present condition of the road out of that street.

Messrs. D. N. Skillings, Jr., Arnold Lawson, and Pierce T. Buford are at San Harbor, Me.

The mountains and seashore are temporarily claiming many Winchester families.

The Boston Police are making a special raid upon the tramps that have been lounging about Boston for a long time, and they are being driven out of that city only to find a new field in the immediate suburbs. Winchester will no doubt receive its share of these castouts. Vigorous measures on the part of our police will cause them to move along to other fields as in the past.

Camp Fellsland beat Camp Powwow in basketball 19 to 18; they also defeated them in baseball 15 to 3 but lost in volleyball 2 to 1. The water meet on Sunday was won by Troop A-B.

A 30-foot tower has been built by the boys studying Pioneering under the leadership of Mr. Chaput of Stoneham.

Some members of the Camp Committee were at camp during the past week to complete the meeting for the addition made to the Camp Infirmary.

A special trip is in order for this week, a trip to Salisbury Beach. Winchester boys present at the camp for the second week are: Thomas Howland, Donald Murphy, Robert Murphy, Richard Joslin, Benson Snyder.

Mr. Franklin E. Barnes is leaving this week for Ocean Point, Me., where he will spend a month with his son, Mr. Warren F. Barnes.

DEDICATION OF "MEMORIAL LODGE" AT CAMP FELLESLAND, SUNDAY, AUG. 3

The dedication of "Memorial Lodge" at Camp Fellsland has been changed from July 20 to Aug. 3. The change was made so that the birthday of one of the donors could be celebrated in conjunction with the dedication. The special Building Committee and Camp Committee held a meeting at the camp on Wednesday evening, July 16, to arrange for this dedication. There are approximately 90 boys at camp for its second week. Activities during the first week were:

THE NEIGHBORLY SPIRIT... it's grand!

A first year garden can be pretty tough going. What a wonderful feeling when the more experienced gardener next door gives you a helping hand!

You're on party line telephone service, and everyone on your line works together for better service. Keeping calls brief, allowing a little time between a series of calls, and answering promptly — that's acting in the neighborly spirit, too. It benefits everyone on party lines!

WE REALIZE THAT TELEPHONE SERVICE, for those who share a party line, depends a great deal on the party line neighbors. We know, too, that many people are looking forward to having individual service ... and eventually we'll be able to provide them with it. But, as long as materials and equipment are in short supply, party line service makes it possible for us to give telephones to the maximum number of people.

White carnations and gladioli decorated the altar of St. Mary's church on Saturday afternoon, July 19, for the marriage of Miss Graces Paula Amico, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Amico of Spruce street, to A. Miss Amico was given, as a wedding gift, a diamond and emerald necklace and earrings.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

The 50,000th patient was admitted to the Winchester Hospital on Monday of this week, July 21. This total represents the long procession of men, women and children who have come to the Hospital since its doors were opened at its present site in 1917. The patient whose history bears the magic number is a young married woman, an, born and brought up in Winchester, one of the many to whom the Hospital is the place where one goes for medical and surgical care and for the nursing the modern home can no longer offer.

The admission of the 50,000th patient brings again the question as to just what the Hospital means to the town and how deeply its service affects the lives of its residents. When the Star carried on May 29 and June 6 the reports of Winchester Hospital experience in the Bonnell and Burnham families, we asked ourselves whether these were typical or exceptional. We could give many more such reports of family experience, but would they be an accurate picture of the vitality of the Hospital service to the welfare of Winchester residents?

In order to arrive at a more dependable judgment of the Hospital's community importance, we have made two separate studies. First, we have taken the most recent list of Winchester residents and checked all families and all individuals against the Winchester Hospital records. We find that 57 per cent of the families and 76 per cent of the individuals have had Winchester Hospital in-patient service. That is, almost six families in every ten and four individuals in every ten living in the town have been in-patients in the Hospital. These figures give fairly impressive proof of the relationship between Hospital and town in Winchester. They do not include the very large number who have had out-patient service (accident cases, dressings, x-ray studies, laboratory examinations) not necessitating admission as in-patients.

Secondly, we studied groups of families in different parts of town. How does the Hospital affect these groups? Take three families living in a neighborhood in a part of town which is largely "white collar." Family A, whose head is a professional man, consists of father, mother and two daughters. The father has been in the Winchester

Hospital twice, once with pneumonia and once with an acute respiratory infection. Both daughters have passed with tonsils and appendicitis in the Hospital. Neighborhood Family B, with ownership interest in one of Winchester's manufacturing plants, has a record of major surgery for both father and mother. Family C, with national retail business connections, consists of grandparents, parents and children. The obstetrical service of Winchester Hospital has supervised the advent of both children, has seen the grandfather and the mother through serious major surgery, and has sounded taps for both on the death of the father and one of the children through serious major surgery, and has sounded taps for both on the death of the father and one of the children through serious major surgery.

In another part of Winchester, Families D, E and F of industrial workers have sent, respectively, three, six and ten members to the Hospital. The fathers of Families D and E have had hernia operations, and the mothers have had care in childbirth and in two cases serious bladder difficulties. The younger members have come to the Hospital for minor surgery and medical care, in one case involving days' treatment. The 10 individuals of these three families have been in Winchester Hospital a total of 225 days.

This, then, is the procession of Winchester residents constantly passing through the doors of the Hospital, bringing all sorts of health problems, and relying, year by year, more completely upon the skill and healing and friendly interest found within those doors.

Master Painter Gus Hakanson completed the inside and outside painting of the Noonan School last Saturday and this week commenced a similar job at the Washington School.

FLOWER MISSION

A committee from St. Mary's Church is in charge of the Flower Mission last Tuesday, and the same group headed by Mrs. Virgil Girardin and Mrs. M. E. Moffett will be collecting bouquets for next week, July 29. So if you will please share your flowers with some of Boston's unfortunate sick and aged shut-ins, call either Win. 1588 or 1730.

In spite of a continued drought that has caused a cloudburst just at train time, the group from St. Mary's Church courageously collected many beautiful bouquets last Tuesday.

This is a town project shared by almost all the churches and the Winchester Garden Club and we are proud to contribute to this 29th year of flower giving.

PORCELAINIZE

What Does Porcelainize Do for the Car?

Porcelainize is a "Treatment" which beautifies and protects the finish. It produces a hard dry surface which retains its lustre and is easy to clean. If dirt, grease, semi. road oil, sap, etc., settles on the surface, altho the lustre may be temporarily obscured, the removal of such foreign deposits will reveal the Porcelainize in all its original brilliancy. In most cases ordinary washes, using only clear water, without soaps, kerosenes or cleaners, will bring quick results. Some gums and sap may require simple water buffing. In more severe or neglected cases, buffing with a "sandy" compound, followed with a quick cream wash, will restore the full beauty of Porcelainize.

The fact Porcelainize may be covered with these foreign elements does not indicate it has deteriorated any more than dirt on the face indicates decomposition of the skin. There need be no fear that cleaning off normal surface deposits will "remove" or affect Porcelainize "treated" finish.

NEWS FROM WYANOKE

Battling Sammy Bellino, demon halfback and captain of the Winchester High School football team, is now sealing a neat 158 ringside despite his arduous duties as a member of the Wyanoke kitchen crew. Sammy claims his speed is unimpaired and both he and "Pete" Dillingham are attempting to emuliate the old "duck-waddle." Bill West used to do uphill from the float to the camp to get their legs in shape. Brother, that should do it. If it doesn't break them off at the knees.

Ted Covert and "Peaches" Flagg, being mere managers, will have none of the uphill stuff, claiming they use their heads and not their underpinning during the football season. Dillingham's suggestion that they do the stunt on their heads was coldly received.

So far "Muscles" seems to have gained little if any weight, and as a matter of fact is claiming no increase in avoirdupois. It is rumored that Flagg walked into a table with a stack of plates, over which he was unable to see, with dire results, but he himself could be persuaded to give out no statement. He is still wearing his "bro-gans" and how he gets up and down all day long is a mystery to the entire camp.

Apparently the camp cuisine is flourishing at Wyanoke this summer. At least the boys liked their Sunday dinner well enough last week to give out with a spirited yell for the entire kitchen staff. Since Mrs. "Bill" Rodgers is one of the important cogs in this department of the camp, Winchester can share the pride.

Don't know what "Bill" was up to last week-end, but Henry Knowlton, in his usual T-shirt and "Mickey Finn britches" was hustling about getting ready to go on a canoe trip.

Don Armstrong and Scottie Doubt seemed at least passably healthy under their tan and able to take a bit of nourishment now and then. A very streamlined George Gould is doing all right with the rifle range, one of the popular camp activities. Incidentally, a 100 yard range is in the making.

It isn't true that the kitchen crew, Messrs. Bellino, Covert, Dillingham and Flagg, had to bury their clothes after a visit from a large skunk at their tent last week. The boys have seldom started more rapidly from a prone position nor moved with greater celerity.

ATTENDING SIGNAL CORPS CAMP

Cadet David R. Chipman, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Chipman of 15 Lorena road, is among the students from Massachusetts Institute of Technology attending the Signal Corps ROTC Summer Camp being held at Fort Monmouth, N. J., from June 21 through August 2.

This camp, the only one in the First and Second Army areas, comprising the entire Northeastern United States, has been organized by the War Department for the purpose of giving practical training to college students in the Signal Corps branch of the Reserve Officers Training Corps. A total of 18 colleges and universities are represented at this camp.

ST. MARY'S CYO JUNIORS AT GINN FIELD

On Friday evening, July 18, at 6 p. m., St. Mary's Juniors CYO baseball club played a uniformed inter-city game that was as thrilling as a game that anyone has ever seen.

To fit the uniforms which have a red trim on them the names Red Wings and Red Birds were selected. The same players had played a practice game the evening before with no score kept; thus some of the players were not at their peak. Young Stevenson, for example, had pitched the evening before and Raso, too. They would have been far more effective had they had a few days rest between pitching chores; however, the kids are so fired with enthusiasm over the CYO baseball program and the swell uniforms and the interest being shown them that they want to play all of the time.

The Red Birds went out in front in the first inning with five runs, but the Red Wings came right along and scored one in the first, three in the fourth, two in the fifth, one in the sixth, and two in the seventh to win nine to seven.

The game was tied up in the fifth on Dave Barry's single, driving in two runs, with the bases loaded at the time. In the sixth inning, Patterson's home run put the Red Wings in front and there they stayed. The homer was well tagged and came at the right time. There were many heroes in the contest. Barry tripled with one on in the fourth and had three runs batted in for the game. He had walks and stole two bases, one of which was a steal home. Flaherty pitched fine relief ball to gain credit for the win. For the most part, Lynch came up with the prettiest catch, we will venture to say, in all Winchester, this season. Running full tilt towards left on a hard smash by Patterson who had previously homered, this lad caught the ball around his shoe tops and somersaulted twice on the ground but held onto the ball. Both sides cheered as he trotted into the infield, it made the third out.

The summary:

Red Wings		Red Birds
Runs	15	7	15
Hits	12	10	12
Errors	1	2	1

BOAT CLUB NEWS

VISITING SNIPE SKIPPERS RULE REGATTA

As a follow-up to the National Snipe Championship race held at Marblehead, the Winchester Boat Club staged a week-end regatta on the Mystic. Five of the nation's leading skippers accepted the invitation and then proceeded to administer a sick lesson in Snipe sailing to Winchester's sailors.

The visitors included Ed Williams of Kansas City, Jack Wirt, Florida; Pierre Havre, Bill Davis and Peter Schoonmaker all from various parts of California. Schoonmaker didn't race, but the others did—and how.

There were three races in the regatta, one Saturday afternoon, and one both Sunday a. m. and p. m. The Saturday race was the most hotly contested with Pierre Havre out front by only a few seconds over Don Simonds, Sr., but on Sunday Ed Williams took two with plenty to spare. On Sunday morning, Ed kept his boat moving in practically a non-existent wind, to win quite handsily over Dawson Blamire, who piloted his chartreuse Fox to a thrilling second over even other closely positioned boats.

On Sunday afternoon in a brisk breeze, Williams sailed through the fleet to victory over Don Simonds, Sr. and Bill Davis.

With two firsts and a fifth Williams was an easy winner over Davis who placed second and, although Simonds actually placed third, he withdrew and the prize went to Pierre Havre. Presentation of the prizes was made by John Hayward, one of the country's leading Snipe sailors, who coached in the Nationals but didn't bring his boat to the lake.

Club Chatter

It was the unanimous opinion of our visitors, that the Winchester Boat Club is second to none they have ever visited—and they've been at a good many. Davis' boat was bought in the club number increasing the fleet by one more super Snipe.

Al Litchfield and Jim Newman did an excellent job of handling the race. A few remarks on reason for the outstanding performance by the invaders was that Don Simonds, Jr., failed to compete. He certainly made a splendid showing at the Nationals.

He finished seventh in the final standing and except for a broken jib halyard in the final race would have finished even better.

COUNTRY CLUB'S FATHER AND SON TOURNEY NEXT WEEK

Winchester Country Club will stage its 29th annual Father and Son Golf Tournament next week Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 5 and 6. With the club observing its 15th anniversary year there is even more interest than usual in this event which is always one of the red letter bookings on the club schedule.

The Father and Son tournament is at medal play, Scotch forecourse with selected drive, one-half added handicap of pair.

Winners of first gross obtain possession of the Winchester Father and Son Bowl for one year and also receive for themselves replicas of this beautiful Paul Revere Bowl to keep permanently.

Prizes are also awarded for second gross, first net and net prize for father playing with two sons, also first net and second net for father and son under 12 years of age. Starting time from 8:30 to 2:30 may be engaged by calling Winchester 181.

As a supplementary division to the main tourney the Sixth Annual Grandfather and Grandson Tournament will be run with suitable net prices. Starting times may be arranged by calling Win. 1181.

Fred Wright, Jr. and Fred Wright, Sr. of Oakley won last year's Father and Son, repeating their 1915 victory. John Page and John Page, Jr. of Winchester won the father and son 12 years and under competition and Library Trustee Francis E. Smith won the grandfather and grandson division with his grandson, David.

Sunday morning shortly before 2:30 a passing motorist noticed a dim light in a hole on Woolsie road from which the family was supposed to be away. He notified the Police at once, and a checkup disclosed that some one had apparently been home and pulled the refrigerator, leaving the door open. The light from the refrigerator interior was what was seen by the motorist, and very probably a new bulb will be necessary before long.

AIR POWER

IS PEACE POWER

on AIR FORCE DAY, AUGUST 1ST

No one today questions the fact that the whole future of the United States may rest in the very clouds over your head. And the new, reorganized Air Forces give thousands of eligible young men an opportunity to take an active part in building America's air power . . . on the ground as well as in the sky.

You may, for example, enlist in the Air Forces for three years. If you have a specialty which will qualify you, you may also be able to enlist in a grade at higher pay.

If you have had Air Forces experience, you may join the Air Reserve and continue your military aviation training outside of business hours.

Or, you may join the Air National Guard and perhaps become eligible for advanced technical training at special Air National Guard schools.

On Air Force Day, make a point of finding out everything about your Air Forces—especially the new Aviation Career Plan described below. Full details can be obtained at your U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

NOW—THE WORLD'S GREATEST OPPORTUNITY FOR A CAREER IN AVIATION

Today the Army Air Forces offer high school graduates an unprecedented opportunity to get the finest aviation schooling on earth—and select your school or course before you go to school.

The AAF Career Plan is unlike anything ever offered before. It permits selected high school graduates to apply and qualify for AAF specialized courses of their own choice. Simply go to your U. S. Army Recruiting Station, advise the Recruiting Officer the kind of aviation training you want and he will provide you with an application blank and a complete list of available courses.

When you are selected to attend the course of your choice, you enlist in the Army Air Forces for 3, 4, or 5 years. After your basic training period you are guaranteed the education you have selected to make you a specialist in the type of work you want.

Get a list of all the schools and courses open to you under the AAF Aviation Career Plan at your U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

OUR THANKS TO
DOROTHY MURIELS

Our own thanks, and that of our staff, are extended to Dorothy Muriel's for the gift of a singularly toothsome cake signaling the opening of their new food shop at Winchester at Main and Thompson streets. We all appreciate the courtesy and our appreciation of the cake can best be expressed by recounting the speed with which it disappeared. It really melted away.

LAUNDRYMISS LADD AND MRS. HILLS
NORTH SHORE WINNERS

Lois Ladd and Dottie Bruno Hills, two former Winchester High School tennis stars, combined to win the North Shore women's tennis doubles championship at the Telesco Country Club last Sunday, defeating Mrs. L. C. Wood of Cambridge and Mrs. H. Boston of Newton in a closely-contested round, 4-6, 7-5, 7-5.

Miss Ladd was a finalist in women's singles, losing in the championship bracket to Mrs. Carl Pickhardt of Cambridge, a 38-year old mother of three children, 6-8, 1-6. Mrs. Pickhardt's powerful forehand finally enabled her to break through Miss Ladd's lobbing game in the first set and the Winchester girl faded in the second.

The Cambridge champion had to go to three sets to beat Nancy Norton of Cambridge, a former Winchester girl, in the semi-final round, 1-6, 6-1, 6-0, while Miss Ladd humbled defending champion Jean Pipes of Wellesley, 6-1, 6-1.

In mixed doubles Miss Ladd paired with Jack Byrne of Brookline to reach the semi-final, losing to the father-daughter team of Vaughn and Jean Pipes of Wellesley, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3.

LIBERTY MUTUALS, 6
ST. MARYS, 2

On Wednesday, July 23, another game was played between the two teams and the Mutuals went home with another decision to their credit. St. Mary's really thought they could defeat these boys, most of whom come from Everett and Don Kenton had been scheduled to pitch. At practice the night previous Don took a light practice and Jack De who was scheduled to pitch against the Winchester Wanderers on Friday evening, bore down at the practice game and really gave himself a workout. Fans took a hand on the morning of the Mutuals game and Don Kenton got himself a severe spike wound on the ankle and was sidelined for the game in the evening. Despite his tired arm, Dee did a fine job and gave up 7 singles and only 3 walks. He had two strikeouts. St. Mary's only got 4 hits off Allen and he gave 6 bases on balls and had 6 strikeouts to his credit.

Nowell made one of his patented catches with his back to the infield, out near the foul line to avert some damage. The score was 6-2.

Freddie Keith with 2 hits justifiably getting fife in the lineup with Dee himself got his usual single per game. Joyce made the other hit. Dee and Keith knocked out the boys are not quite as big as they are getting good experience and when next year they will be officially in the C. Y. O. league this experience will serve them in good stead. Next year they will have a regular schedule to maintain both away and at home and we will expect a fine ball playing outfit to lead the field. WIRING

44 ways

To get "Something for Nothing"

The railroads have received 44 "rules" demands from the leaders of the operating unions . . . representing engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and switchmen. They say they are seeking only changes in working conditions—not a wage increase.

More Money For Less Work

But what kind of rules are being asked for? Twenty-eight of them would compel railroads to pay more money for the same, or less work; 7 would require additional and unnecessary men to do the same work; the rest would bring about changes in operating practices at increased cost.

For Instance:

The Union leaders demand additional train and engine crews on Diesel-powered trains—one full crew for every power unit in the locomotive. A freight train hauled by a 4-unit Diesel would have to carry 4 engineers, 4 firemen, 4 conductors, and at least 8 brakemen, or a total of 20 men instead of 5.

"Made Work"—Sheer Waste

The Union leaders demand that full-length freight trains be cut to about half their length, even though such trains are most efficient for low-cost service to you. This rule would call for twice as many locomotives, would double the number of trains, and make accidents more likely.

Additional equipment, yards, and other facilities required to take care of these short trains would cost hundreds of millions. What the Union leaders really want is to make more jobs.

The Union leaders demand that when a crew in one class of service perform incidental service of another class, they will be paid not less than a day's pay for each class, even though all service is performed as a part of the same day's work. The crew would get at least two days' pay for one day's work.

The Union leaders demand that the present basic day for passenger conductors and trainmen be reduced from 150 to 100 miles, which would have the effect of increasing their pay 50%. Such a run often takes only two or three hours!

You Can't Afford This Waste

Demands like these are against the interests of the whole American people, who depend on railroad service for nearly everything they eat, wear and use.

These rules would cost a BILLION DOLLARS annually—a gigantic waste which neither the railroads nor the country can afford.

Railroad workers are good citizens and good employees, with pride in their calling. Their record during the war was outstanding. We do not believe they fully understand the "featherbed" rules which the Union leaders are demanding. We do not believe they understand the harmful results which these rules would have to the railroad industry, to the millions of men and women dependent on railroads for their livelihood, and to the shipping and consuming public.

The great strength of America is in production—an honest day's work for an honest day's pay.

For only through greater production can we hope to stop the steady upward surge of living costs.

Surely, if ever there was a time in our history when we needed to work, not waste, this is it.

SOFT BALL TO FEATURE
ELKS OUTING

Chairman Robert F. Murphy announces that the feature event of the Winchester Lodge of Elks outing which is to be held Aug. 24 at Johnson's Grove, Burlington, will be a soft ball game between the married and single men. The married men's team is reportedly holding secret practice nightly under the able supervision of manager-coach Francis Tansley. Tansley has submitted the following lineup which is strictly tentative:

1b, "Long John" Bud Meek
ss, Fred "Lazzer" Schulz
2b, Ed "Pine Tree" McKenize 3b, Waldo "Watch Me" DeLoe
c, John "Dickey" Clinch
p, Francis "Smiles" Tansley
If, Joe "Cygler" Paul
cf, Neil "DiMaggio" McCarthy
rf, Charlie "Butter and Eggs" Meek

Up until this time the single men's lineup is undetermined due to the pressure on Coach Charlie Dolan along other lines.

HOPKINS-TAPLEY

Wearing a gown of ivory satin and lace with a fingertip veil caught to a coronet of matching lace, and carrying a crescent of white gladioli, Miss Claire Tapley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hutchinson Tapley of Glen road, was married on Saturday afternoon, August 2, at Epiphany Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church, to James David Hopkins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James David Hopkins of Chevy Chase, Md. Dr. Howard J. Chadley, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony at 4:30 o'clock, and a reception followed in the parish house. Kenneth Moffatt, organist, played the marriage music.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Tapley was attended by her sisters, Mrs. Sanborn Vincent and Miss Ruth Tapley, both of Winchester, as matron and maid of honor. Another sister, Miss Della Tapley, was one of the bridesmaids, the other being Miss Sally Parrish of Pittsburgh, Pa.

All the bridal attendants wore identical sky-blue jerseys, dresses and carried bouquets of light yellow gladioli.

Stuart Hopkins of Chevy Chase was his brother's best man, and the usher corps included Sanborn Vincent of Winchester, brother-in-law of the bride, J. Thomas Axon of Towson, Md., H. B. Faxon of Haverhill, and Wolcott G. Ely of Pelham Manor, N. Y.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. Clarence A. Lyman, an identical twin of the bride, who is now in Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. Hopkins and his bride went to Maine for their honeymoon. Upon their return they will live in Winchester until next February while Mr. Hopkins is studying at the Harvard School of Business Administration.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Smith College in the class of 1946. Mr. Hopkins, who is an ensign in the United States Naval Reserve, graduated from Yale with the class of 1945.

NEW HOPE BAPTIST CHURCH CALLS NEW PASTOR

Announcement was made this week that the New Hope Baptist Church on Chestnut street has called as its new pastor, Rev. Virgil Hill of Everett has responded and will take the church pulpit beginning this coming Sunday.

Reverend Hill attended Gordon College of Theology and Missions in 1920-23. Leaving there he came to the New Hope Baptist Church for eight years after which he was called to Myrtle Baptist Church of the same city.

He is a very forceful and convincing preacher with a gift of oratory. Having ten years of experience, he brings to us that which is greatly needed. He has been endorsed by the Massachusetts Baptist Conference and is the president of the Baptist Ministers' Evening Conference of Cambridge and vicinity for eight years.

CAR CRASHED RAILROAD GATES

Occupants of a car driven by Edmund J. Johnson of 25 Rockwell street, Roslindale, had a narrow escape Sunday evening when the machine crashed through the gates at the Boston & Maine crossing in the center shortly before the arrival of a train.

According to the Police, Johnson said he became confused while driving his car south on Main street approaching the north crossing. He started to turn right at Park street, but was stopped by a car which was stuck in the tracks. He saw north lights, not gates until he struck the latter.

"SARTO" WALSH RED CROSS GUEST

Mr. Charles S. Walsh, formerly of 11 Maxwell road, now with the Army in Osaka, Japan, was a featured guest at the American Red Cross "Pop Party" honoring the 25th birthday of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph Cooper, 6-1, 6-4, who is top standing in the All-Japan Baseball League.

The former Winchester High and Chatham School athlete, now a member of the 25th Division headquarters' company, entered the Rambo Room of Club 25 in Osaka as the division band played "Take Me Out to the Ball Game." The auditorium had been transformed into a ball park, with dugouts. Red Cross girls dressed as umpires, hot-dog and popcorn vendors, and a miniature diamond with lifeline cardboard players in position.

The evening's highlight was a musical "Victory Cake" topped by an "Odile" baseball, with early stichings and the inscription, "You Did It Last Year; You'll Do It This Year."

The program featured a sports quiz in which the Stars lined up against nine other GIs picked from the audience. It was a hot and fast game, with Mr. Walsh answering three questions dealing with baseball.

The Red Cross staffed Club 25 had been the scene of many parties for the past 18 months. Red Cross girls have arranged state and local games, and have been to places of scenic and historic interest.

Mr. Walsh's enticing and timely writing were largely responsible for the "Stars" league leading a pace of 10 victories and three losses. He says he is undecided between a return to school or a professional baseball career after his army discharge.

AMBROSE JOINS WILMINGTON HIGH FACULTY

Ralph Ambrose, son of Mrs. M. C. Ambrose of York street, and widely known in his native Winchester, has been appointed to the faculty of the Wilmington High School and will commence his new duties in September.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Smith College in the class of 1946. Mr. Hopkins, who is an ensign in the United States Naval Reserve, graduated from Yale with the class of 1945.

REVEREND HILL ATTENDED GORDON COLLEGE OF THEOLOGY AND MISSIONS IN 1920-23. LEAVING THERE HE CAME TO THE NEW HOPE BAPTIST CHURCH FOR EIGHT YEARS AFTER WHICH HE WAS CALLED TO MYRTLE BAPTIST CHURCH OF THE SAME CITY.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Notes on the Endowment Fund of the Operating Suite

A mutually responsive hospital-community relationship is the secret of the founding and maintenance of the Winchester Hospital. The earliest proof of this relationship was the realization of the need for a hospital, which was clear to a few men and women two decades before it was answered by the cottage hospital in 1912. These individuals, seeing the need, set their faces steadily toward filling it as soon as humanly possible. There is also one group which shares with the individual leaders, the unique honor of having long foreseen the need for a hospital, the group known as the Pop Concert Committee. This group, composed of Mrs. then C. Sanborn, Mrs. George H. Root, Mrs. William F. Beers, Mrs. Frank A. Cutting, Mrs. Robert H. Nickerson and Miss M. Alice Mason, began raising and laying aside funds in 1907, and in the process of its money-raising, contributed to the pleasure and interest of life in Winchester for 32 years. The records show a total contribution from this source of more than $30,000 to the equipment for major surgery and other needs at the Winchester Hospital. The work was crowned in 1939 by a capital gift of $10,000 as an endowment for the operating suite. "Carriages may be ordered at 10:30" is one of the items on the program for the first Pop Concert, held at the Town Hall on Eastern Monday, April 5, 1947, the proceeds of which began the operating suite fund. The program of that first entertainment was strictly of local talent—songs, dances, monologues and a one-act farce. The actors were of the most respected citizens, including Dr. Harold Gale and Dr. J. Churchill Hildes, and the success of the venture was assured from this promising beginning. The next year the number of reserved tables had increased from 72 to 84, and the musical program featured the Salon Cadet Band, an admirable organization, with Dr. Hildes continuing as most acceptable soloist.

The concert held their place in Winchester's calendar for twenty years, and were adorned in the twenties by soloists of operatic rank. The amount of the proceeds did not, however, satisfy the committee, and, as an additional source of revenue, the first House Show was given in 1921 on the grounds of Mrs. Sanborn's estate. Agreement. Here in the fragrance of tan bark and with all the color and bluntness of the period the Winchester House Show launched upon its nineteen-year history. That first show in June, 1921, was attended by two thousand people who sat in their cars about the enclosure on High Street above the Sanborn house or in ring-side seats. The program included twenty-nine exhibits and twenty-two events for saddle horses, hunters, jumpers and ponies. When Agreement was sold in 1925, the show transferred, through the courtesy of Mr. Harry Good, to his Riding School Grounds in Medford, where the annual event was held until its last three years, when the Winchester Country Club grounds became its setting. An immense amount of time and effort went into the Pop Concerts and the House Shows, with fine results in entertainment and sports, in addition to the funds for the Hospital. As vitalizing parts of the popular support for many years, Mrs. Sanborn and Miss Mason are dramatic examples of the intimate connection which is welded between a project and those who invest themselves in its life. Mrs. Sanborn served as chairman of the Building Committee for the first hospital on the Highland Avenue site, sharing with Mrs. Joshua Coot the honor of laying the corner stone on May 18, 1916. Her work on the Finance Committee continued five years after the dedication. Miss Mason's official service on the board of the Hospital was unbroken from 1912 until 1943. Such creative individual and group effort is the very essence of community welfare.

"Jack" Finzer, regular guard on the Winchester High School championship football team of 1937, is attending Harvard Summer School this year, after teaching for a year in the Bellows Falls, Vt., High School. He is to teach at Shady Hill, a private school in Cambridge, next year.

ITALIANS TO CELEBRATE ASSUMPTION FEAST NEXT WEEK

Winchester Italians will hold their annual observance of the Feast of the Assumption next week with a three-day celebration commencing Thursday evening,
Aug. 14, and ending Saturday night, Aug. 16. The celebration of the feast day, Friday, Aug. 15, will include a religious service in the morning and band concert at night.

The Feast of the Assumption is an internationally observed holy day on the calendar of the Roman Catholic Church, and for many years now it has been celebrated by Winchester's Italian residents. In the old days the fireworks displays attracted people from all over Greater Boston, through the town on the evening of "Italian Day."

There will be fireworks this year but not on the scale of former years. State fire authorities having banned the old displays of the bombardment type.

This year's celebration will commence Thursday evening, Aug.
14, when members of the committee and other workers will gather at the old Shore road athletic field to prepare for the program of events.

Friday morning, Aug. 15, there will be mass at St. Mary's Church, and in the evening at 7:45 p. m., a band concert at Shore road field by the Napoli Band, which has often appeared here.

There will also be midway attractions at the field through Friday and Saturday.

Saturday's program will commence with the arrival of the Napoli Band in Winchester shortly before 9 o'clock. At 9 o'clock there will be a parade through the streets of the Italian section, followed by luncheon.

Commencing at 2 in the afternoon there will be the big parade of the celebration. In this parade the statue of the Feast of the Assumption, which is to be on display at Shore road in an especially constructed shrine, will be carried in the line of march, which will be headed by the band and members of the Assumption Day committee.
Children in holiday garb will also be in line.

The line of march will be from Shore road through the Italian section to Washington street and return to the field where the statue will be returned to its shrine until the celebration is concluded.

Saturday afternoon and evening the midway will be in operation, and at 7:45 Saturday night the Napoli Band will play another concert at the field. This concert will be followed by a display of fireworks of the decorative sort, featuring many beautiful set-pieces.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes: George Tobi, chairman; Frank Bartoli, secretary; Robert Fiore, treasurer; Rosario Gange, Ralph Fiore, Domenico Ferraro, Anthony Ponta, Alfonso Curcio, Thomas Macaroni, and Salvatore Battilo.

DENIED COMPLAINT IN BREAKS CASE

The case which the Winchester Police have been handling for several weeks in an attempt to solve breaks at two Winchester filling stations finally settled out in the District Court at Woburn Tuesday when a complaint, sworn by the authorities and charging a Woburn juvenile with the breaks was denied.

The first of three actual breaks took place on May 8 at the Tylor filling station on upper Main street, operated by Earl Rice. The second was at the Texaco filling station at the corner of Cambridge and Paul streets, operated by Charles A. Murphy. At attempted, but unsuccessful, break was made at Murphy's on June 19, and on June 24 there was a second break at Rice's.

In instances where access was gained to the stations, gas, cigarettes and other articles were taken with small amounts of money and several keys which were at the stations.

Shortly before the break at Rice's on June 26, Officer Thomas Hannon of the Police Department saw two men on Main street along the station and questioned them, being told that they were on their way home from Melford.

On June 29 Officer Roy Bell of the Woburn Police reported to Officer Edward W. Bowler that he had seen two boys, one the boy Officer Hannon had seen on the night of the break on June 26, and had called them to his car. As they passed around the machine one of them dropped a piece of paper, which Officer Bell recovered and gave to Officer Bowler. It was a piece torn from a newspaper telling of the break at Rice's station.

Officer Bowler asked the Woburn Police to have the two boys report at Woburn Headquarters the next day, and went to Woburn to question them. The boys, however, did not show up and at the home of one of them the Police learned that they had gone to New Hampshire.

The boys returned to Woburn July 23, and the police satisfied themselves that one of them had been with the local breaks.

The other was questioned by Acting Chief Edward W. O'Connell and Officer Bowler, at Woburn Headquarters, without securing an admission.

According to the police, the boy claimed he had found the keys from the two gas stations and that he had a large number of keys in his possession because he collected them. He said that he had the keys taken from the Murphy station on the boulevard in Melford and first stated he found those taken from the Rice station on a hedge on upper Main street. Later he is said to have changed this story to say that he found them on a lawn on Main street. A key belonging to a Winchester motorist and taken during one of the breaks at the Murphy station had been in his possession for "three years," he told the police.

The boy denied any complicity with the breaks, said, according to the police, he did not know where Cambridge street is located and had not been in Winchester on the night of the second break at the Rice station and never been spoken to by Officer Hannon and had never seen him before.

Police say the boy was arrested at Cambridge, N. H., of infancy when he lived there during his stay in New Hampshire. After questioning the boy at length Acting Chief O'Connell sought a complaint at the Woburn Court. He was denied the complaint on the grounds that there was not sufficient evidence to issue one.

CAMP FELLSLAND CLOSING SUNDAY

The boys of Camp Fellsland are now in the last week of Camp activities and will be home in our midst again as Sunday, Aug. 17. This will close one of the most successful seasons in its 23 years of existence.

The highlight of the year to most of the boys and its leaders was the erection, dedication and use of the new "Memorial Lodge" that was dedicated on Sunday, Aug. 3.

The boys and leaders have had full use of the building starting the latter part of last week and continuing through their last week. It is a remarkable change in going from the very close quarters of the old mess hall to the larger quarters in the new "Memorial Lodge".

The cook and kitchen help are particularly pleased with all of the modern equipment and as a result additional goodies are on the boys' tables daily.

The highlight of activities during this last week included competition with Camp Fox Vow in basketball, basketball, and volleyball, also swimming as well as a bus trip to the seashore. The annual auction, masquerade, and "Campers Day". "Campers Day" is an annual tradition wherein the boys themselves elect from their own ranks boys who will act in all supervisory jobs. In turn the regular staff become campers for a 24 hour period. This works to a great advantage for both groups and acts also as

Corinthian Yacht Club Meet
Thursday, August 7

Again Bob McGrath swam to victories over Charles Stephanos in the men's 100 meter freestyle open event in the first of two heats. This time by just a touch in a photo finish. All three places were so close in this final that the race was almost called a dead heat. Bob won his heat with Wimpy Burtnett and Tom McGowan each getting third in their heats and Lou Brown and John Powers fourth, but Bob was the only one qualifying for the finals.

In the women's 100 meter freestyle open event Barbara Donaghy won a fast second place behind Clara Lamore. She also was second in her heat behind Clara, but gave Clara a real race in the finals for first but Clara had that little extra push to win by half a body length.

Lynn Aitkens showed a great improvement in the 100 meter backstroke open event when she won third in her heat and qualified for the finals. She did not place but kept right up with the other swimmers until the last lap. Beverly Gay also won third in her heat, but did not qualify for the finals. Lynn's time was faster.

Winchester entered its first relay team in the women's 100 meter junior championship medley event with Lynn Aitkens, starting off with backstroke and Betty MacIsaac following with breaststroke and Sally Morgan finishing with freestyle. They finished fourth, but for the first time racing in a relay they made a fine showing.

Bob McGrath, Lou Brown and Wimpy Burtnett were asked to give a diving exhibition on the high and low boards in which they did a fine job.

A very fine ballet was given by 12 members of the Corinthian Yacht Club.

In the men's 100 meter freestyle open event Wimpy Burtnett and Tom McGowan each placed second in their heats and John Powers and Lou Brown placed third. None qualified for the finals, but made a good showing in such fast company.

Lynn Aitkens, Beverly Gay, Marge Carroll and Sally Morgan entered the women's 100 meter backstroke open event with Lynn and Bev placing third in their heats and Marge and Sally placing fourth in their heats. All showed much improvement, but did not qualify for the finals.

The Winchester Water Ballet made an excellent impression with Lou Brown, John Powers and Wimpy Burtnett putting on a fine diving exhibition. Lou and June Moffette put on a wonderful water duet.

SCHOOL PHYSICIAN FOUND LITTLE COMMUNICABLE DISEASE

Dr. William D. Barone, school physician, found only 18 cases of communicable diseases in Winchester school children during the school year 1946-47, an excellent finding and one which should prove especially pleasing to all local parents.

Dr. Barone's finding was made public this week by Superintendent of Schools Forbes H. Norris, who lists some of the highlights of the School Physician's report as follows:

1. Most of the major and minor defects in Winchester school children in order of frequency are: carious teeth, nose and ear defects and feet. Very few of the defects are irremediable.
2. It has been shown that when parents are present for the physical examination, that 25 per cent more children receive medical care.
3. During the school year 1946-47, there were only 18 cases of "Communicable Diseases." (This is a very good report.)
4. Among 180 High School students taking chest X-ray the case of T. B. was revealed.
5. There were very few moderately severe and a few low-grade cases of infection of the foot.
6. There were 78 pre-school examinations in 1947.
7. All third grade pupils were given the Massachusetts Vision Tests. (This is a much more accurate eye examination than given in the past.)
8. The Medical Department is preparing material which should be helpful to the Physical Education Department in giving further helpful instructions.
9. Eight hundred and sixty pupils were given an Audiometric Test, the last mass hearing testing ears by a machine designed for this purpose.

ST. MARY'S VS. LEONARD FIELD SENIORS

On Wednesday evening, Aug. 6 at Leonard Field, St. Mary's boys' intermediates lost to the Leonard Field Seniors 9-4. Perhaps if the boys could have played nine innings they might have won this one, since they collected 3 runs in the 7th inning and might have gone on further. This is an assumption, of course, but the boys have been showing all along their late inning power.

Errors played havoc with St. Mary's chances of winning plus their inability to hit the Leonard Field pitcher, in all but the 7th inning. A single by Nowell in the second, one by O'Brien in the fourth, one by Kenton in the seventh plus Nowell's beautiful triple in the seventh to deep right was all the damage St. Mary's could do. Buddy Flaherty's long outfield fly accounted for a run in the 5th. He had two runs batted in for the record. Don Kenton gave up 4 hits, 5 walks, and struck out 8. Chisholm gave up 4 hits, 3 walks and had 10 strikeouts.

J. Amico with 2 hits led the Leonard's in batting and flagrant in the second. The batting rivalry between Nowell and Kenton blossomed along with Nowell boasting his average from .318 to .360 in the second. The batting rivalry between Nowell and Kenton blossomed along with Nowell boasting his average from .318 to .360 in the second.

TO COMMENCE WORK ON TRACK NEXT WEEK

Town Engineer Parker Hallbrook expects to commence the construction of the new track on Manchester Field next week, making the steam shovel from the Pond street job for the excavation work.

The new track will be a standard quarter-mile track, constructed in accordance with the best available plans for cinder tracks. Rigid specifications have been laid down and when completed the track should be among the best in Greater Boston.

Work on Manchester Field has reached a point now where it is possible to get a good idea of what the finished field will look like. Material taken from the Pond street and other construction jobs in town has been used for fill in the middle of the field and has been covered with the screened loam removed during the early days of construction there.

The new track placed on the worn spots of the football gridiron have been kept wet and are green and apparently well started. With the gradual removal of the big ramp part of earth approximately between the small junior high field and the old Manchester Field surface, the new track will be much easier to visualize.

The Water and Sewer Department answered an emergency call at 3:30 yesterday morning for assistance at an automobile accident on the Wolcott Parkway, sending its emergency lighting equipment to the scene on a truck manned by Supt. Harry W. Hotten and Assistant Supt. Jim Halvington.

The equipment consists of floodlights and a generator mounted on a truck and was used to light the efforts of rescuers in attempting to recover the body of Miss Geraldine McEloughlin of Medford who was drowned when the automobile she was driving on the Parkway left the roadway and plunged into Hottel Pond near the Hottel pumping station. Police floodlights from Winchester were also sent to the Pond.

Miss McEloughlin was one of a party riding in the car, all of whom were injured or less injured, one seriously. Most of her companions were thrown or jumped from the car before it went into the water, but she was unable to extricate herself and went down with the machine.

The Chapter 10 job of reconstruction on Pond street has progressed very satisfactorily, one side of the excavations work having practically completed from Cambridge street to Woodside road.

Several feet of the ledge on the north side of the street which has created a dangerous condition for years has been removed by blasting and the ledge is gradually widened at that point, making for greater driving safety. Excavation work on the other side of the pond has been completed for as far as Chestnut road and Town Engineer Parker Hallbrook expressed himself as pleased with the general progress of the job.

JAVA

Two strikingly different cities, Batavia and Jogjakarta, stand out as opposing capitals in the sudden clashes between Netherlands troops and Indonesian nationalists.

On the northwest coast of the thickly settled, tropical island of Java, Batavia long has been the chief outlet for the rich export trade of the Netherlands Indies, notes the National Geographic Society.

Jogjakarta, situated near the island's southeastern shore, is a center of native Javanese life, and the capital of the postwar Indonesian Republic. Jogjakarta is an important rail and road junction, linking Batavia on the north and Soerabaja, Java's second city, on the northeast.

physical aspects, however, the difference between the two points are as great as those between Java and Netherlands-in-Europe. The newer sections of Batavia, to which the Europeans long ago moved from the swampy, unhealthy Old Town, in many ways are like a Netherlands town transplanted to the tropical East.

Bright tiled buildings rise amid green, luxuriant gardens. There are broad streets and substantial government buildings and homes, including Republican headquarters taken over by the Netherlands authorities in the first operations of the present conflict. The extensive naval base and military and commercial flying fields have been rehabilitated since the ousting of the Japanese.

Kept Javanese Flavor

Jogjakarta, sometimes spelled Djokjakarta, or Djokja for short—was noted, on the other hand, for retaining much of its Javanese customs and flavor. Postwar visitors thronged there to study the traditional dances, to attend the colorful theater and musical festival, to see the public markets and bazaars. Jogjakarta has been a center for native arts and crafts, especially in fine metal and leather work and in the delicately designed batik sarongs worn by both men and women.

Before the Japanese occupation of the island, Jogjakarta had a population of nearly 100,000, compared with more than half a million today. It was, consequently, noted for the post of executive officer of the Pan-Indonesian Orchestra, which with the aid of Dutch troops, and the help of a group commander of the Central Pacific Base Command, and was placed on inactive duty in January, 1945.

Since April 1945, he has been general manager of the South Java Works, with headquarters in Eddy Stone, Pa.

Attorneys have always been of particular interest in Mr. Allen, and he is widely known as a collector of Currier and Ives prints. He was married to Katharine Watson in 1925, and has three children, and makes his home at Newton Square, Pa.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

ROBERT GRAY ALLEN, INDUSTRIALIST

Born: Aug. 21, 1902 at Winchester, Mass.

The career of Robert Gray Allen is unique because of his success in three different fields: military, legislative and industrial. The son of Arthur Harrison and Sarah (Gray) Allen, he attended Phillips Andover Academy and Harvard College, graduating respectively in 1922 and 1926.

He was a member of the United States House of Representatives from the 28th District, Massachusetts, from 1935 to 1939, during his term of office, he achieved distinction as a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Mr. Allen was elected president of the Huff-Norton Manufacturing Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., manufacturer of industrial lifting apparatus, on July 15, 1940, but took leave of absence shortly after the declaration of war in 1941, to become a major in the United States Army. He was subsequently noted for the post of executive officer of the Pan-Indonesian Orchestra, which with the aid of Dutch troops, and the help of a group commander of the Central Pacific Base Command, and was placed on inactive duty in January, 1945.

Since April 1945, he has been general manager of the South Java Works, with headquarters in Eddy Stone, Pa.

Attorneys have always been of particular interest in Mr. Allen, and he is widely known as a collector of Currier and Ives prints. He was married to Katharine Watson in 1925, and has three children, and makes his home at Newton Square, Pa.

LIBRARY NEWS

Life stories of 219 persons who figured in the news of 1946 appear in Current Biography 1946, a 34-page reference volume which has recently been added to the Winchester Public Library, according to Miss Mead, the Librarian.

Most famous in this collection, which tells "who's news and who's" are more than 100 government officials in the United States and abroad, thus reflecting the news and interest in international affairs centered about United Nations conferences. Figures of national and international importance are also included, as are prominent figures in the social service, science, literature, and the arts. Each entry is accompanied by a portrait and references to other material. Considerable research makes possible in part a very accurate biographical information while in formal, literary style makes the sections especially readable.

A 30-volume set, covering 1940 to 1946, includes the names of all those whose biographies or obituaries have appeared in Current Biography from the first issue through the issue of December, 1946.

FILES IN SCHOOL SHOW REVEALS NEW LOOK FOR TEEN-AGERS

Winchester Girl Among Models

Fall fashions for high-schoolers in everything from sport clothes to the dressiest formal were modeled Tuesday afternoon by the 30 members of File's 1947-48 High School Fashion Show at a Platter Party and Fashion Show, in File's Main Restaurant. Fred R. Cile of Station WHDH, master of ceremonies, played the teen crowd's favorite records and gave high with credit to several of the fashions the teen age models showed.

Four hundred and fifty high-schoolers received with the greatest enthusiasm the new look in their very own fashions, the coordinated plus, the new full skirt and checked boy trousers, and the very, very bouffant and very, very feminine formal. This is definitely a new look in high-school fashions, too. It's a neater, smoother and more matched look. Plaid skirts and sweaters, the perennial favorites are supplemented this year by the new fall cottons—gray and young plaids with a little of the Gibson Girl look about them.

Plaid slacks and polka-dots are popular again this year and the beaming audience loved the plaid jacket that can be worn with both skirts and slacks. Full, full skirted evening gowns with hems all the way to the floor, were warmly received and the shimmering puffed sleeves dresses were as welcome as the more sophisticated off-the-shoulder gowns.

The 20 members of the High School Board who modeled were: Jane Aldenborg, Cambridge High and Latin; Paula Alphen, Rosinale High; Joannette Beattie, Mt. St. Joseph's Academy; Barbara Butum, Winchester High; Virginia Byrne, Milton High; Kathleen Coker, North High Academy; Harriet Clarke, Medford High; Ruth Cushman, Girls' High; Nancy Dean, Wrentham High; Claire Hale, Wakefield High; Elaine Magazan, Braintree High; Elaine Ffathston, Girls' Latin; Barbara Lynch, Beverly High; Barbara Marston, Hingham High; Barbara Travis, Dorchester High; and Nancy White, Lexington High.

As the Playground Baseball League enters its last week of play, the championships in all three divisions are still undecided and the youngsters will be scrapping for these titles right down to the final game of the schedule. This rather unusual situation after eight weeks of play makes for tremendous interest right through the final week and has been occasioned by the remarkable come back of the Leonard Field teams as they continue to upset the leading Loring Avenue teams in all three divisions.

In the Junior League Leonard Field knocked off Loring Avenue 5-3 in one of the best games of the year to move into tie with them for first place. The Leonard Field boys rallied for three runs in the final inning to win this big victory. Bobby Welch contributed the vital hit as Roddy Delaney pitched superb ball to hold off the challenge of the Loring Avenue team.

In the Intermediate League, Leonard Field defeated Ginn Field twice during the past week to move up to within one game of Loring Avenue. They have two games to play with Loring Avenue and must win both of them to take the championship. In these two games would permit Loring Avenue to take the championship by one game.

In the Senior League Leonard Field decisively defeated Loring Avenue 16-1 to move up to within one game of the leaders. Major Daniels allowed only five hits while striking out 11 as Eddie Conley banged out a round tripper, and Dick Sheridan a triple for the winners.

Prior to this game the Loring Avenue seniors had knocked off Ginn Field twice earlier in the week. The final game of the season saw battle in which Loring Avenue led 6-1, fell behind 4-2, went ahead 9-7, fell behind 9-10, and then won in the last inning 11-10. The second game was an easy shut out with Ozzie Wilson allowing Ginn Field only two hits.

In the two tournaments conducted during the week the Loring Avenue junior boys softball team went into the lead in that race by defeating the Ginn Field boys twice by scores of 14-9 and 11-2. In the other tournament the Leonard Field girls defeated the Ginn Field girls in softball by a score of 18-8 while the Loring Avenue girls defeated the Leonard Field girls 20-13 despite a home run by Rita Coughlin for the losers. The Loring Avenue playground now leads in all three tournaments in girls' softball, girls' kick ball and junior boys softball.

Mr. and Mrs. William Conrad Platzoeder of Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, are the parents of a son, William Scorton Platzoeder, born Aug. 13 at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William C. Scorton of Everett Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Platzoeder of Enterprise, Oregon.

Occasional phosphate collectors and small military garrisons have been the only human inhabitants.

NORFOLK ISLAND

No income tax, property tax, or housing problem! Food plentiful and cheap! Eternal spring, and soft sea breezes! These are the attributes of scenic, flowering Norfolk Island.

Except for brief visits, however, the gates of this Pacific paradise are closed to outsiders, says the National Geographic Society. Fortunately provided for by nature, this haven is for descendants of the mutineers of the British ship-of-war Bounty and their Tahitian wives.

A little more than 900 miles east-northeast of Sydney, Australia, Norfolk Island is about six miles long and three miles wide. It is called with cliffs rising to 900 feet. Mount Pitt, popular picnic ground is 1,000 feet high.

Norfolk's first postage stamps, first issued, are sold in the old log-hutted guard-room of the abandoned prison, the present post-office. The island had been a British penal colony before of the "Bounty" were brought there in 1856 from their overpopulated Pitcairn Island home.

Less than 1000 people dwell on the sub-tropical isle. Quintal, Christian, Nobbs, and Buffet are the most common family names—all names from the crew of the Bounty, except for Nobbs, who joined the Pitcairn colony later.

Horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, and chickens feed themselves. Sea birds provide the islanders with plenty of eggs. Coconuts, peaches, lemons, grapes, and guavas grow wild. Native pine provides housing material.

The well-watered, fertile soil and balmy climate assure abundant crops of beans, potatoes, bananas, oranges, strawberries, pineapples, passion fruit, and papayas. Such exports, with whale oil, bring the islanders cash for tea, sugar, and tobacco.

What free land is left is reserved for the hundred and more veterans returned from World War II. The Royal New Zealand Air Force garrisoned the island during the period of hostilities.

There is a weekly motion picture show. Two years ago "Mutiny on the Bounty" played to a full house. "Bounty Day" is celebrated annually.

The village of Kingston is the principal shipping and shopping center and the home of the Australian administrator. Because of Kingston's unprotected harbor, Cascade landing on the north shore is occasionally used.

TINY SAN MARINO IS HILTOP REPUBLIC WITH MEDIEVAL FLAVOR

United Nations membership for San Marino, which has taken preliminary steps toward application, would add to the organization a storybook land on a mountain top, a country-within-a-country, the smallest republic in the world.

Surrounded by Italian territory, the medieval towers and battlements of San Marino rise from Mount Titano, notes the National Geographic Society. The republic has an area of only 36 square miles—little more than half that of the District of Columbia—and a population of about 15,000 people. Yet it still has a tradition of 16 centuries of statehood.

Founded by Stone Cutter

Legend-shrouded accounts tell of its founding by the Christian stone cutter, Marino, who during the 4th century sought there solitude and repose. On his death, the mountain which had been presented to him by a Christian-converter administrator was passed on to his followers, to be "free from every other man."

San Marino's strategic location as a natural lookout along north Italian traffic routes, however, made this too valuable a spot to escape trouble. Though Napoleon spared it on his Italian campaign, more Nazi cars moved into San Marino. When British forces approached nearly a year later, the occupied people declared war on Germany.

Up-and-Down Life

Geographically, the people of San Marino lead an up-and-down life in their steep country. White farmhouses and parish churches, along with sharp-roofed medieval towns, appear to be climbing toward the rocky summits.

Climbing to the higher slopes is the capital, San Marino, with its massive gates, narrow streets, and turreted stone buildings. A statue of Liberty stands in the Piazza della Libertà. The government palace, a modern structure of 14th century architecture, contains a bust of Abraham Lincoln—a reminder of the honorary citizenship conferred on the American president in 1861.

The stone foundation of San Marino, in which both the history and physical being of the nation are rooted, offers a leading means of livelihood, as it did in ancient times. Besides building stone, wine and cattle also are exported—along with the famous postage stamps, whose variety and vividness long made them of interest to collectors.

San Marino is governed by a council of 60 members, elected by popular vote. From this body two leaders are appointed every six months.

months to serve as captain-regents. Although political parties follow modern trends, medieval pageantry, with gold braid, plumed hats, and fancy costumes, still colors the republic's state ceremonies.

CAMEROONS

From the lowly shrimp came the name Cameroons for the one-time German colonial wedge of tropical Africa divided between France and Great Britain after World War I. Both Allied powers have now joined the United Nations trusteeships for their respective League-mandated portions of Cameroons and Togoland on the Gulf of Guinea coast.

A Portuguese navigator dubbed the region five centuries ago when he found camaroons (shrimps) abundant near where the port of Douala now stands, in the wide mouth of the river that empties into the Gulf's northeast corner. The colony was known then to the Germans, is Cameroon to the French, notes the National Geographic Society.

Like neighboring colonies along the south coast of Africa's big western bulge, Cameroon consists of fertile but oppressively humid and unhealthy coastal lowlands and wild interior uplands. Lowland plantations, cacao, coffee, bananas, spices, peanuts are grown. Rail and motor roads lead to the docks at Douala.

Bark in the plateaus, roads are few. They pass through occasional native villages, ruled in some instances by sultans. Complete with flowing white and gold robes, palaces, gardens, harems, 100-pipe orchestras, a cavalry guard, and similar appointments.

Away from the motor roads in the Cameroons hinterland is Africa at its nearest-wild, grassy plains and open forests in which dwell primitive tribes, herds of elephants, and the full range of wild animals from lions to small monkeys.

The colony exploited by the Germans for three decades prior to World War I was almost as large as their homeland, bordering Nigeria for 200 miles from the Gulf of Guinea northward to Lake Chad. Early in World War I, British and French forces combined to take the German colony.

At Versailles, a western strip of the colony, adjoining Nigeria, was mandated to Great Britain. It has been administered as a part of Nigeria by the British since 1919. The remaining five-sixths—166,000 square miles—was mandated to France.

The French setup courts, established schools, put natives in some administrative positions. They built hospitals and trained native doctors and nurses to combat fever diseases that had long been the scourge of the lowland areas. They expanded cacao and coffee production and made their colony virtually self-supporting.

They moved their capital eastward from Douala into the healthful uplands at Yaounde. They planted cashew trees which matured just in time to yield quinine in 1942 when the supply from the East Indies was cut off. Their administration was native favor, and paid off in loyalty when Free France (later Fighting France) was organized in Africa in 1940.

Both "Moody" and "Ed" have a host of friends in the city who wish them to. At present he is commanding officer of the Military Police at Sasebo, Kyushu.

WINCHESTER PHOTOGRAPHER ILLUSTRATED THE BOSTON BOOK

Through the courtesy of the Houghton Mifflin Co., publishers, the Star received this week a copy of "The Boston Book," a book of Boston with text by E. E. Forbes and many photographic illustrations, both black and white and color by Arthur Griffin. The book is a superb little volume which will appeal to residents of Winchester who are near enough to the Hub to know it intimately and therefore able to appreciate the Griffin photographs with a knowing eye.

Both photos and text are primarily devoted to the older parts of the city, King's Chapel, the old South Meeting House, old State House, Dock Square and Faneuil Hall, the Quincy Market, the Paul Revere House, Copp's Hill, Bunker Hill, the famous trigon, Constitution, the picturesque waterfront, Park Street Church, the "sacred cod" and many other things are depicted and described in a way to hold the interest and delight one's sense of the picturesque.

At the front of the book are a number of illustrations in color, such intriguing shots being shown as Brimstone Corner, Beacon street, Across the Charles, Louisburg Square, Public Garden, the Ritz Roof, both in summer and winter and Copsey Square with the State Trinity Church and the newly State Life Insurance building, looking tall and white in the background.

From the Winchester angle the chief interest in the book is the bridge, the bridge, the bridge, taken by the local man, Arthur Griffin, who makes his home at 22 Euclid avenue.

A Lawrence boy, Mr. Griffin, student of the New School of Design in Boston, and after winning a scholarship, returned to the same school to teach. Afterward he joined the department of the Boston Globe and worked as a commercial artist for several years.

Photography was strictly a hobby in those days, but when Arthur Griffin took a bicycle trip through Europe some years ago he took along a camera with the idea of taking pictures to paint after he got home.

The pleasure he got from taking the pictures and excellence of some of them led Mr. Griffin to make a career of photography. He became a photographer for the Globe instead of an artist. It is of interest that he was the original photographer for the Globe's "Photo-Story" feature, which he has been doing for many years.

His year away from newspaper work prompted him to go in for free lance and he has been a prolific producer of pictures for many years. About a year ago he had a double page spread in color in the Saturday Evening Post, this being the first time the Post had a series of "Stories of America" last winter. The Post ran his double page spread in color on the State Street Trust and last week he did a series of 10 pages of shots of the city, which he had taken during the past year. Mr. Griffin has traveled between 50 and 60,000 miles on picture assignments for the department.

During the past year Mr. Griffin has traveled between 50 and 60,000 miles on picture assignments for the department. He has traveled to the West Coast and Canada, as well as many journeys through New England. He has had much experience in life and American Magazine.

Mr. Griffin has made his home in Winchester for 17 years. He was born in the city of Boston, where he has a 12-year-old daughter, Lee. By all means see the book he and Mrs. Forbes have done. You will like it.

COMING EVENTS

SALEM'S BEAT SONS

The Sachems defeated the Sons of Italy 3-2 in the first game of the final play off series in one of the fastest and best played games of the year. Both teams played excellent ball, making only one error, as top notch hurling reduced scoring opportunities to a minimum and there were only three extra base hits in the contest. Further evidence of the high caliber of the pitching is the fact that only two hits were enough in the outfield by each team and that the Sons' Edna had 14 assists to go along with 12 putouts.

As the Redding had the edge on the Sachems, however, and that edge was just enough to give the Sachems their victory. Each team made seven hits but Redding waited seven while granting two bases on balls while the Sachems gave up three passes and struck out two of the Sachems. Redding was a bit more effective in the pinch, leaving the Sachems with only one runner stranded on the bases while the Sachems were a bit careless with Poirer who batted out a home run on Tompkins on base to share honors for the evening with Redding.

After two scoreless innings the Sachems drew first blood as they scored in the second inning with a single to center, moved to second base on a passed ball, was sacrificed to third by Poirer, and scored as Blawie grounded out to shortstop.

The Sons of Italy went to work when they scored twice in the fourth inning, bunting for a sacrifice, scoring on a single, and then scoring on a single to center, moved to second base on a passed ball, was sacrificed to third by Poirer, and scored as Blawie grounded out to shortstop.

NORRIS L. S. LONG DISTANCE SWIM CHAMP

School Superintendent's Son in Year Record Effort at New York

"Ted" Norris, son of Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Norris, is the new AAU junior long-distance swim champion of the United States as the result of his win of the four-mile event for the title at Williams Lake in Rosendale, N. Y., last Sunday afternoon.

"Ted" won in convincing fashion, having a three-minute advantage over the runner-up, Ted Stevens of the University Circle Swimming Club of Cleveland. Steve W. 21 min., unattached, of Buffalo, N. Y., three times winner of the event and fourth last year, was third; and another of the big favorites, Jack Taylor, 16 year old swimmer of the Firestone Club of Akron, Ohio, recent winner of the AAU junior long-distance championship, was fifth. Norris swam the four miles in 1 hr. 35 min., 10 sec., second fastest time ever made for the event and only three seconds off the record. He took the lead at the 100 yard mark and never headed, gradually pulling away from most of the field of 20 actual entrants. "Ted" used the American crawl, a six-beat stroke, and judges caught him at 36 strokes to the minute going by one of the floats. The race was completed over a quarter-mile course, around end floats, each complete lap being half a mile.

"Ted" brought back a handsome gold and silver medal, awarded by the Amateur Athletic Union, and a fine gold trophy, known as the Williams Lake Marathon Trophy, awarded by the Williams Lake Athletic Club. He was loud in his praise of the treatment accorded him at Lake Williams and of the lake itself, which he described as beautiful, with water green and crystal clear, enabling the swimmers to see bottom at 30 feet. A banquet was held for the swimmers Sunday evening after the competition.

Norris is a junior at Harvard and has been a member of the varsity swimming team at Cambridge for the past two seasons, swimming the 400 meter event. Two years ago he was third in the 1,000 meter event at the Intercollegiate and that year won the Wyman Medal awarded the most points for the Crimson during the swimming season.

TOWN TENNIS

All the town tennis of Winchester is by no means concentrated in any one spot, yet it is hard to be disputed that there is a strong tendency for players of both sexes and all ages to gravitate toward the large expanse of courts available on Palmer street. At any rate, for many years it has been at this center that the Winchester Tennis Association has operated among its members "the bumper list." Before Hitler et al. attacked us so suddenly from our snug slumbers this was a very active list, for position on it determined rank on the Association's team which played in the Old Colony Tennis League. This year the strong efforts to revive competition between players on the list have not produced the fully desirable results, and the season probably lies in the failure to revive the Old Colony League. It was possible, we understand, to find only about three clubs ready to form teams and provide facilities for play. Nevertheless, thanks to our town facilities, the Winchester association is getting back into the groove, and we can hope that some neighbors will soon be interested enough to offer competition.

As we reach the moment of the year when once again we shall name our town tennis champion, men's singles, women's singles, men's doubles, and mixed doubles, we offer for your perusal the ranking list of those men who entered the bumper list. The players stand in sequence as follows: Jimmy Coon (1946 singles champ), Art Hills, Ed Williams, Jim Riley, Bud Nutt, Hall Gamage, Whit Gray, Bill McGarrah, Bob Bellows, Dick Hills, Forbes Norris, Ken Hills, Wallace Blanchard, Eben Caldwell, Doc Blanchard, Dave Small, Connie Rosander, Ken Lamprey, Harry Bean, Bob Sackett, Roger Wright, Les Leathers, Warren Branch, Ben Marshall, Dave Brunkman, Al Burro, Gerald Smithson, Charlie Blanchard, Larry Smith, Ed A. Williams, Bob Paine and Dick Glendon.

We blush to record that some of these "athletes" have played no matches whatsoever. May they blush as they read this true record!

Incidentally, as palladia of the tennis championships mentioned above, the Association is owner and official custodian of three large cups. Two emanating from the Benedict Club, which used to be centered on Highland avenue in the vicinity of Governor's avenue, are for men's singles and doubles. One provided by the Association, the Packer Cup, is for women's singles. It is evident that one is needed for mixed doubles. Does some one feel inspired to offer a memorial?

WINCHESTER FUNERAL DIRECTOR'S ASSOCIATION COMMITTEE

John W. Lane, Jr., director of Lane's Funeral Home and undertaking service at 700 Main street, has been appointed to the transportation committee for the 60th annual convocation of the National Funeral Directors Association to be held in Boston for four days commencing Sept. 30.

This year will mark the first time in 51 years that the Association has met in Boston and indications are that the 60th convocation will be the largest ever held by the N. F. D. A. Over 3000 delegates and guests from all over the country are expected and the entire cost of entertainment and travel for those attending has been assumed by the New England Funeral Directors. Interesting trips to such historic spots as Bunker Hill Monument, Paul Revere House, Old South Church, Lexington, Concord, and Plymouth have been planned.

Daniel F. O'Brien of Cambridge heads the executive committee in charge of arrangements.

STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

The many students, Veterans and civilians are taking advantage of the splendid opportunity for actual professional experience offered by the various departments affiliated with the Arlington Academy of Music.

Students interested in the Symphony Orchestra may audition and perform with the Arlington Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Leonard Wood. A large concert hall, Ensemble classes several times weekly and a modern dance band are some of the many opportunities for the vocational seeking students.

REQUESTED TO BE LOCKED UP

Early Saturday morning the Police received a call to send the patrol car to an address on a north end street. Upon arrival a young man came from the house and demanded to be locked up.

He was quickly accommodated by Officers James Noonan and William Callahan, and lodged in a room at Headquarters on a drunkness charge. Whether he was as uncomfortable there as he would have been at home only he can say. He was released in the morning. A total of four were arrested for drunkenness over the week-end which is rather more than is usual. It must have been the heat!

SWIMMING CLUB NOTES

Barbara Donaghey paced the Winchester Swimming Club entries at Woburn last Saturday by winning the Massachusetts State 220 meter freestyle event for women in the NEAAA meet held at Foley Beach, Horn Pond. "Barbie" turned in a fast 2 min. 53 sec. to lead Coralie O'Connor of Worcester and teammate Beverly Gay by 15 or 20 yards. Beverly led Miss O'Connor until the final lap when the Worcester girl spurred to win by a body-length.

Despite a slip on a flip-turn that threw her out of her lane and cost her a good five yards, Lynn Artison placed third in the junior 224 meter championship event, behind Ruth Mix of Metropolitan Swimming Association and Carol Sousa of Providence Central. Sally Morgan of Winchester, who was bumped by Lynn and Marge Carroll were fourth and fifth.

Charles Stephanos of Lynn Boys Club won the Men's Mass. State 40 yard freestyle event handsily, with Donald Sonia of Lynn and Bob McGrath of Winchester staging a thrilling race for second place, the Lynn boy finally winning by a stroke. The time was 5 min. 23.2 sec. Betty MacBane gave the experienced Louise Sherlock of Wanskuk a real race in the 100 meter breaststroke open event, swimming smoothly in orthodox fashion to lose out by a touch. Betty paced Miss Sherlock all the way and lost by just the advantage the Wanskuk entrant got from her butterfly which took her out of the water for the "touch." Beating such girls as Connie Mills of Providence Central was a real feather in Betty's cap in the second race in big time.

Roberta Coon finished a good third in the 50 yard event for girls 13 and under and little Nancy Donaghey was second in the 50 yarder for younger girls.

In the boys events, Paul Haskell edged Freddie Wheaton for top honors to give Winchester first and second in the older boys' 50, and in the younger boys' 50 Winchester got first and third with Jim Carroll winning and Bucky Morgan finishing third.

HEAVY RAINSTORM TUESDAY

Winchester's intolerable hot spell was broken Tuesday afternoon by an electrical storm accompanied by a terrific downpour of rain, breaking all comparable records of the Water Department. Supt. Harry W. Dotten reports that 2 1/2 inches of rain fell in half an hour for the heaviest fall he has witnessed in his many years with the Water Department. Winchester incidentally had the heaviest rain that was reported. Around the center sidewalks were awash with water reaching from buildings at one side of the street to those on the other. Veritable lakes were on Main street in front of Filene's, in the center at the northerly railroad crossing, on Mt. Vernon street from Converse place to the Town Hall and elsewhere about town. Main streets were full of debris washed down by the floods from the sidewalks, and washouts were reported on Bacon street at the easterly end of the stone bridge over the river, in Grove place, on Hill street near Main street, at Bridge and Elm streets, on Forest street, Loving avenue, and on Highland avenue at Kenwin road.

Force of water lifted manhole and catch-basin covers at many places about town, especially at Main and Mt. Pleasant street and at Mystic avenue, and Maxwell road. Behind the town hall water gushed from a drain vent two feet or more in height.

Many buildings around the center were flooded, including the National Bank and Filene's. The Fire Department went with squeegees to assist in getting the water out of the latter basement.

Many private roads in the west side hill district were reported Wednesday morning as virtually impassable, due to damage done by floods, and many private gardens were badly damaged by the water and heavy rainfall. At the home of Mr. Vincent L. Scanlon, 8 Winslow road, water carried away the back wall of his garage and Ken Hall states that the flood waters did his garden no particular good.

TOT UNINJURED AFTER RELEASING BRAKES OF CAR

Little Michael Bumgardner, 3-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bumgardner of 8 Prince avenue, was unhurt last Saturday evening when the car in which he was playing rolled from its parking place onto Stone avenue and down across Washington street against a telephone pole.

According to the Police the car was parked in a driveway at 380 Washington street, by its owner, Harry P. Gulliksen of Hill Hotel, Omaha, visiting in Winchester at the Washington street address. The little Bumgardner boy got into the car and released the brakes, the machine rolling from the driveway onto Stone avenue where the boy jumped out safely. From Stone avenue the car rolled down across Washington street into a telephone pole. Fortunately nothing happened to be on the road at just that time and no damage was done except to the front of the car, which wasn't helped any by its impact against the pole.

SENTENCED IN ASSAULT CASE

The East Boston young man arrested by the Police Sunday morning, Aug. 17, and charged with assault and battery and accepting a bribe, was found guilty by Judge Curtis W. Nash in District Court at Woburn last Saturday morning. The case was continued until Monday for disposition and that morning the 22-year-old carnival worker was sentenced to a month in the House of Correction on the assault and battery charge and a month in the House of Correction on the accepting charge, with sentences to run concurrently.
The young man was committed immediately.

Police alleged the young man followed a North End girl from Lake street to her home and grabbed her, making improper advances to her. She broke away from him and reached home safely but in a hysterical condition.
The Police were notified and picked the young man up in Wo-burn on Main street only about 20 minutes after receiving the report. The authorities say the girl positively identified the defendant as the one who had followed her and accosted her. He denied the charge.

CAR IN MILL POND

It wasn't as bad as it sounds, but a Chevrolet coupe, owned by Frances Foley of 18 Middlesex street, did roll into the Mill Pond from the parking lot at the rear of the town hall last Friday afternoon.

The accident occurred at 5:45.
Mrs. Foley had parked the car when in some way the brakes became loosened and the machine rolled forward down the hill into the Mill Pond near the little island.

No one was in the car and only the two front wheels went into the water. Moody Auto Sales of Main street took it to dry land.

SHOPPING EXPEDITION

Children on Spree With Money
They Found

Two local youngsters, a girl of 9 and her younger brother, 6, went on a shopping expedition Monday forenoon in Woburn and were getting along famously when their activities were cut short by the Woburn Police.

According to the local authorities the pair found $22 which belonged to a neighboring housewife.
Just where they found it or how it happened to become lost isn't too clear, but in all events the youngsters came by it and decided to see what they could do toward exchanging it for merchandise of sorts in the local stores.

The left their home bright and early Monday morning and made a tour of the local shops, without however making any purchases worth mentioning. Feeling that they might do better in Woburn, the pair departed thither, and there went into action in a big way until Officer "Eddie" McDonald interrupted their spree.

Before the big patrolman noticed the youngsters coming down the main street, he literally laid down with their purchases. The children had visited the Central Hardware Store, Gorin's, the Five and Ten and Tom McAnn's. They had started by buying a sunshade and pocketbook for their mother and then had commenced to satisfy their own desires.

Among the articles they had when Officer McDonald picked them up were two pairs of sunglasses, candy, a syring-jar, crayons and a coloring-book, two pairs of socks, a horn, a doll, vanity-pin and bracelet, the whole amounting to $8.21. Incidentally this should at least establish the kiddies as thrifty buyers. Few adults could have secured more for a similar cash outlay.

At Police Headquarters a call was sent into Winchester for information about the youngsters, and at local Headquarters an older brother and sister of the pair had already been in to report their absence from home. Getting the wanted list shoppers back under the family roof-tree was considered the matter of a half-hour or so.

Three year old Peter Schiack of Winter street became ill while at Leonard Field Beach Tuesday afternoon. The Police were summoned by Custodian Robert Bonn and the little boy was taken to the Winchester Hospital by Patrolman Hargrove in car 51. During Tuesday afternoon's terrible storm the books at the M.H. P. and took shelter near the library, and apparently one of them got too near the area-way on the southerly side of the building and fell, or was washed in. Custodian Robert Bonn heard the bird quacking in good shape Wednesday morning and let his brother, "Wally" down on a rope to rescue the duck. The latter seemed unharmed and waddled off to tell her pals at the pond all about it.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Winchester Playgrounds celebrated one of their finest seasons last Saturday. With the addition of Ginn Field as a new playground, with older and more experienced personnel available for instruction, and with new and better equipment available, a more comprehensive program was offered which appealed to a wide variety of youngsters of all ages and ability. Attendance figures were the highest they have been for many years and because of the closeness of the competition in the various leagues, interest was maintained right down to the last minute.

The Loring Avenue Playground enjoyed most of the honors for the season, winning five out of six boys' league championships, and only Ginn Field was able to win the Loring Avenue team by winning the girl basketball championship and three baseball championships.

hips, the girl softball team, and the Junior boys' softball team all went to Loring Avenue.

Loring Avenue won the championship of the Junior division of the Playground Baseball League by defeating Ginn Field 4 to 3 in the final game. They had to come from behind to win and showed their championship qualities by punching across the winning run in the final inning. It would have been a shame for Don Kenyon to have lost that game for he had pitched masterful ball, allowing only one hit in seven innings while striking out eight and granting five bases on balls. Avenue Slack on the mound for Ginn Field almost matched Kenyon's performance by yielding only three hits while fanning seven and giving up five bases on balls.

Loring Avenue had already won the championship of the intermediate division and made it three in a row by beating out Leonard Field 6 to 0 in the final game to win the title in the junior division. Charlie D. Filippini twirled this important game for Loring Avenue against Roddy Delaney who was relieved by Johnny Farrell for Leonard Field.

In the Junior boys' softball league Loring Avenue won the decisive game 9 to 8 from Ginn Field to win that championship as well. This was a close and exciting game all the way as Mickey Breen and Pete Gannage matched pitches for the winners and losers respectively. Ginn Field had tied the score 8 to 8 in the top of the seventh inning on a timely pinch hit by Red Edgar. Loring Avenue came roaring back and filled the bases with nobody out. Ginn Field was left through yet, however, as they threw out the first man at the plate, retired the next man on an infield fly, but a poor throw to first at a ground ball for the final out permitted the winning run to score.

While all this activity was taking place on the athletic field, the arts and crafts program was booming as the youngsters were busy making gifts for other members of the family or useful articles for themselves. Among the more popular articles were such things as a pith helmet, a dish towel or a scarf for mother, a stuffed toy for the baby brother, a bracelet for a younger sister, or a handkerchief for themselves. PLAYGROUND CHAMP'S SEE RED SOX WIN

The championship teams of the Junior, Intermediate, and Senior Divisions of the Playground Baseball League were the guests of the Red Sox management on last Saturday afternoon when they saw the Red Sox defeat the Philadelphia Athletics. Ted Hughes was pretty much the whole show as he stepped out the Athletics with four hits but the boys were able to add to the team of the crowd as their favorites, Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, and Don DeMaggio, all batted on a hit, erasing. They kept going, also, to get a closer look of the tricky stuff of Earl Johnson and Fritz DeJong as they watched up in the ball pen and many a cheer went up at some of the plays. These fathers' desire of the warming-up process.

This was entirely a Loring Avenue show as the boys of the Loring Avenue Playground had won all three of the baseball championships. The trip to Fenway Park was made by bus and the bus was pretty important as the

SACHEMS WIN SOFTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The Sachems won the championship of the Town Softball League by swamping the Sons of Italy 15 to 2 in the final game of the playoffs. The one-sidedness of the Sachems' victory came as a big surprise to the large crowd of spectators as these two rivals had previously played a tight game and the largest winning margin in any of the previous five games had been 4 to 1.

It is hard to realize what happened to the Sons of Italy team in this game as they obviously lost their pulse and played very slipshod ball. Their pitching was definitely low grade as DeMandaro and Procopio gave up 14 hits and 10 bases on balls. Probably because of their poor pitching their usual strong defensive play suffered and they committed six errors. An odd feature of the 14 hit attack by the Sachems was the fact that there were only two extra base hits, both of them doubles by Jim Coon.

The Sachems played excellent defensive ball, hit hard and ran the bases intelligently and definitely deserved to win. Andre Redding, however, was not enjoying one of his better nights as evidenced by the fact that he compiled only two strikeouts and both of these came in the last inning. His teammates, however, gave him brilliant support and helped him immeasurably to overcome his shakiness in the early innings. As the score mounted in favor of the Sachems, the pressure was off Redding and he settled down to pitch steady ball in the closing innings.

The Sons of Italy opened the scoring in the last half of the first inning when Saracco reached first on an error, stole second base, went to third on a wild pitch and scored as Fero grounded out.

The Sachems went ahead 2 to 1 in the second inning when O'Rourke singled, Derby was passed, Redding was out at first as both runners advanced and Coon doubled to left to drive in O'Rourke and Derby.

The Sons of Italy tied the score at two all in the last half of the same inning as Roberto, H. Chelino, and Molea singled in succession. Molea's hit driving in Roberto. This had the makings of a big inning but the next two men were retired in order and the Sons of Italy never threatened again.

Then the parade began as the Sachems scored three times in the third inning to make the score 5 to 2. With one out Poirer reached on an error, Tompkins singled, O'Rourke singled to drive in Poirer and send Tompkins to third, Derby died to left with Tompkins scoring after the catch and O'Rourke moving to second on the throw-in, Gannage singled to right to drive in O'Rourke.

The Sachems made it 8 to 2 with three more runs in the fourth inning. Coon opened with a double down the right field foul line, Blanchard singled to score, Coon and Procopio relieved DeMandaro on the mound for the Sons of Italy. Maynard was passed, Poirer grounded out with both runners advancing and then O'Rourke came through with a timely single to drive in Blanchard and Maynard.

The game assumed the proper character of a rout as the Sachems scored four more times on two hits in the fifth inning to make the score 12 to 2. Gannage began the rally as he worked Procopio for a base on balls, Redding was also passed, Coon singled to score Wright who had replaced Gannage, Blanchard reached on an error which filled the bases, Maynard was passed to force in Redding, Coon scored and the other runners moved up on a passed ball and then Poirer singled to score, Blanchard with the fourth run of the inning.

The final three runs were scored in the sixth inning as Wright opened with a single to left, Coon was passed, Maynard drove out a single to score Wright, Maynard singled to drive in Coon and Blanchard scored as an error was made on Tompkins' ground ball.

Jim Coon and Emil O'Rourke paced the 14-hit attack by the Sachems. Coon drove out four hits in four trips to the plate, including the only two extra base hits of the game, while O'Rourke batted out three hits in four trips to the plate and was credited with driving in four of the Sachems' runs to lead the team in that department.

VETERANS HOUSING PROJECT NEARING COMPLETION

Alfred D. Elliott, builder, has notified the Winchester Veterans' Housing Committee that the six houses on Middlesex street, two on Sagamore road, and one house on Wildwood street, which he has been constructing for Winchester Veterans, will be turned over to their owners in the near future.

Mr. Elliott has built attractive, well-planned houses of exceptionally good construction. Much of the back material is well seasoned stock taken from the now demolished Ginn Estate.

Fifteen additional houses have either been completed or are in the course of construction for Winchester veterans and their families. Several desirable town-owned lots are still available to Winchester veterans who are prepared to proceed immediately to construct houses on them for themselves and their families.

Many hours of interviewing, screening and guiding of interested Winchester veterans by the Housing Committee consisting of Messrs. Frank P. Hurley, Wade L. Grindle, and John E. Allen has enabled Winchester to move than promise housing. They have produced houses!

The Winchester Co-operative Bank financed the construction of many of these houses and stands ready to place permanent G. I. guaranteed loans for those Winchester veterans wishing to take advantage of the liberal financing terms offered through the Winchester Co-operative Bank.

VETERANS HOUSES READY FOR OCCUPANCY

Three attractive Cape Cod Houses built by Bernard Eckberg, have been completed on Sylvester avenue and Farrow street. These houses consist of living room, with fireplace, two bedrooms, modern kitchen and bath. Each has a staircase to an unfinished second floor where two additional rooms may be finished later. Each has gas heater and automatic hot water.

The Winchester Co-operative Bank financed the construction of two of these houses and stands ready to place G. I. guaranteed loans for those Winchester veterans wishing to take advantage of the liberal financing terms offered through the Winchester Co-operative Bank.

INDEPENDENCE TREE CUT DOWN

Work of grading the Mystic School lot has been completed, during this process the so-called Independence Tree was cut and thrown on the dump. This tree was a ship taken from a tree which Governor Bartlett of New Hampshire carried on horse back from Philadelphia to his home in Kingston, N. H., after signing the Declaration of Independence. He had taken this little tree from the grounds of Independence Hall. The hurricane of 1938 knocked down the tree in this town but it had grown up fairly well since that time.

SONS OF ITALY LOST BY ONE

Winchester Lodge, Sons of Italy, a strong team in the town softball league, went into the Metropolitan Boston Amateur Softball League on Sunday when they met the Warren Pals of Cambridge at Trump Field, Somerville. They lost the game 10-0, but made a good showing throughout and saw the Warren's pitcher, O'Brien, one of the best taking part in the tournament, knocked out of the box with a four run uprising in the second.

Two home runs in the fifth proved the local boys' downfall.

The Sons of Italy made a strong bid to tie the game in the seventh when Leinin led off with a single and was sacrificed to second by A. Chafale. Sam Tibando fired a long touring fly to deep left field which the fielder made a spectacular running catch of to end the contest and prevent the losing run from scoring.

THE WINCHESTER CITIZENS' COMMITTEE

Sept. 11, 1947

The policy adopted by the Board of Assessors in increasing 1947 real estate assessments has created so many Winchester property owners that their protests have created a civil issue.

Among the "fendal" citizens of Winchester are: (1) a retired veteran, (2) a resident, (3) a recent purchaser of real estate in Winchester, and (4) many other residents who recognize and resent the unfairness and discrimination resulting from the action of the Board of Assessors.

Members of the Board of Assessors have advised these citizens, some of whose real estate assessments have been increased $1400 or more, that their assessments have been processed by formula, on the basis of their recent purchases, to 70% of the purchase price. No case where assessments have been thus increased on property purchased prior to 1945 has yet come to the attention of this Committee. The burden, therefore, appears to be falling on returning veterans and new purchasers, most of whom were forced to buy in an abnormally high market in order to find a place to live.

Although assessments have been increased on real estate involved in recent purchases, properties in Winchester held by the same owners during the last four or more years, in many cases more valuable properties than those recently purchased, still have their former and lower assessments. The action of the Board of Assessors in increasing, almost exclusively, the assessments of the recent purchasers has created some strange inequalities. For example:

A has, for 10 years, owned a 7-room house and land assessed at $7,000. In 1946 B, a former resident of Winchester returning from service in the armed forces, bought the 6-room house next door to A's, having less land and greater age, for $14,000. In 1946 B's house was assessed for $6,000 and now the Assessors have raised his assessment to $8,000. Anyone, expert or layman, looking at the two properties, would say that the "fair cash value" of A's property was greater than B's. Yet it costs B, owning a less valuable taxable asset than A, more money to live in Winchester. Why?

C has owned his property in Winchester since 1929. His assessment remained at $1000 from 1929 through 1946. In 1946 C sold his property to D for $14,000. In 1947 the Assessors increased the assessment on this property to $8,000. If C continued to own the property in 1947, his assessment would have remained at $1000. Thus, it costs D, owning the same taxable asset as C, more money than C to live in Winchester. Why?

X, in 1947, put his property on the market for $20,000. X has owned this property for many years and it has been and is now assessed for $8,000. Y, a rent-paying resident of Winchester, offers X $18,000 for the property but this offer is not accepted. X withdraws his property from the market and continues to pay taxes on a "fair cash value" of $8,000. Yet, if Y had purchased the property, the Assessors would have jumped its "fair cash value" to $12,000 and it would cost Y, owning the same valuable asset as X, more money to live in Winchester. Why?

These are examples of the inequitable enforcement of the tax laws confronting new and prospective home owners in Winchester. Many of these people have been told by the Assessors that abatements will not be granted, some who filed early applications for abatement have received no notice from the Assessors denying their applications. No doubt, if the Assessors are able to act on the remaining applications for abatement, denials of these applications will come in due course.

It is not a good defense to this charge of unfairness to say that Assessors in almost all of the cities and towns in Massachusetts are doing the same thing. The Boston Board of Assessors is not, and has publicly stated that "the local (Boston) Assessors have not felt it was justified in taking the high purchase price as an index to the assessed valuation." Reports indicate that Arlington, Medford, Melrose, Cambridge and many other cities and towns are not penalizing new home owners, and that generally in cities and towns where assessments have been increased, they were increased on all properties in proportion to their "fair cash value" and not just on properties involved in recent sales.

Applications for abatement of real estate taxes must be filed by Oct. 1st. A taxpayer's failure to file an application on or before this date may terminate his right to seek an abatement of his 1947 tax. If the Board of Assessors denies the application or fails to act upon it within a certain period of time, the taxpayer has an additional period of time in which to appeal from the Board's action or failure to act.

A taxpayer's remedies against the action of the Board of Assessors can be pursued along any one of the following courses:

1. Under Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 59, Section 34, the taxpayer may, within 60 days after receiving notice from the Board of Assessors of its denial of his application or within 90 days after the time when his application for abatement is deemed to be refused because of the inaction by the Board of Assessors, appeal the refusal or failure of the Board to abate the tax by filing a complaint with the County Commissioners, or the Board authorized to hear and determine such complaints, for the County where the property taxed lies. As a practical matter, because of legal rules of evidence, because of the expense involved in prosecuting such an appeal, and because of the slim chances of success, there is little to recommend the taxpayer's using this remedy. Moreover, a multitude of appeals might result in a greater strain on town finances in countering such appeals.

2. Under Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 59, Section 35, it may be possible for not less than 10 tax-paying inhabitants of Winchester to file a petition with the Superior or Supreme Judicial Court for the determination of the issue that the Winchester Board of Assessors is using an unlawful policy and to restrain the unlawful exercise or abuse by such Board of the town's corporate powers, pending the Court's final decision. The expense of such a legal proceeding could be met by a small contribution from each interested taxpayer, since there have been a large number of taxpayers affected by the action of the Board of Assessors who could join in this single proceeding.

3. Citizens taxpayers always have an opportunity to remedy their grievances at the polls. By the full exercise of their right to vote and by concerted effort in advancing the candidacy of suitable persons for political office, citizens may assure themselves of representation responsive to all of them. This Committee believes that the responsibility of elected officials to all Winchester inhabitants can be more diligently maintained by a permanent, non-partisan organization formed to interest itself in the candidacy of suitable persons for political office, in the administrative activities of elected officers, and in the promotion of civic interest in all citizens in all sections of this town for the welfare of the whole.

This Committee believes that Winchester has been and still is fortunate in having town officers of high caliber and a town government that operates smoothly and efficiently. But by their policy of penalizing new home owners, the Board of Assessors, and other town officials supporting such a policy, may create a hard core of resistance which will serve as a future irritant to the orderly process of Winchester town government.

This Committee does not question the need for increased revenue for Winchester, the County, and the Commonwealth. However, the Committee does question the good sense and far-sightedness of town officers who propose to collect Winchester's share of that increase out of the pockets of a minority of Winchester residents. A small increase in the present tax rate or a small, uniform increase in all assessments, or both, would fill the need for increased revenue with fairness to all.

This Committee is considering the desirability of holding an open meeting prior to Oct. 1, to which Records show that the following are the causes of most traffic accidents:—

It has been proven by the records that there are eight violations that are almost always involved in our street traffic accidents and they are as follows:

1. Operating at a speed greater than is reasonable and proper; operating recklessly or so as to endanger.
2. Passing cars or pulling out of line when the view is obstructed ahead.
3. Failing to keep to the right of the center of the road or street.
4. Failing to slow down and give a timely warning signal when approaching a pedestrian on the traveled road or street.
5. Failing to slow down at street intersections where the view is obstructed.
6. Failing to use care in passing buses loading or unloading passengers. The law requires cars to stop before passing a school bus, loading or unloading passengers.
7. Failing to obey traffic signal devices, lights, stop signs, etc.

MURPHY-ROWEN

On Saturday morning, Sept. 6, at 10 o'clock, Mrs. Mary E. Rowen, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Rowen of 20 N. Harrington street, was united in marriage to Mr. John Francis Murphy of Dean road, Brookline.

St. Mary's Church, officiated. Miss Mary Callahan, organist, played several selections during the ceremony.

When the lone white trucker was laid in the center aisle the Messrs. Thomas Sullivan of No. Anlover, George Johnson of Loxbury, David Duggan of Brookline and Philip Lewis of Winchester as ushers, led the line of march followed by the four bridesmaids, the maid of honor and the bride on the arm of her bridesmaid, Robert J. O'Hare, who gave her in marriage.

They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Everett D. Lewis, Jr., of Nahant. Miss Rowen's gown was of white satin, princess style, with a sweetheart neckline of seeded pearls, the gown extending into a long train. Her long veil of tulle was held in place by a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and white orchids.

Miss Elinor Ann Rowen was maid of honor and she wore an American Beauty velvet gown with square neckline, cape sleeves, full skirt flared in a hoop style and a bustle. She carried a cascade bouquet of sweetheart roses and blue delphinium. Her headpiece matched her bouquet. As bridesmaid, Mrs. Robert J. O'Hare, another sister of the bride, the Misses Mary K. Murphy, sister of the groom, and Barbara and Edna Dempsey, wore Argyle blue velvet gowns styled identical to the maid of honor. They too, carried cascade bouquet of sweetheart roses and blue delphinium, and their head pieces matched their bouquets.

The bride's mother wore a long gown of turquoise blue and her accessories were American Beauty with a corsage of orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a long gown of pearl gray. Her accessories were bronze with a corsage of orchids.

Seated within the sanctuary of the church was the Rev. Joseph P. Mahoney of St. Joseph's Church of Melford and the Rev. Francis Harkins of the Sacred Heart Church, Melford Hillside.

During the mass which followed the ceremony, Miss Mabel Coy and Mr. Joseph McDonald of Wakefield, rendered several songs which included "Ave Maria," "Pater Noster," "Lord for Today," "Mother at Thy Feet is kneeling" and "Oh Lord I Am Not Worthy."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Sheraton Room in the Copley Plaza Hotel in Boston.

The couple left on an extended wedding trip through the South and upon their return, will reside in New York.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION NEWS

The Board of the Winchester Art Association met last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. George E. Connor, 102 Main street, to complete plans for the coming season of the Association, which meets the first Tuesday of each month at the Gallery, Winchester Public Library.

Mr. George Budd, vice president, conducted the board meeting and reported the resignation of Mr. Charles H. Bailey, Watkinson president, because of illness. The board voted not to accept Mr. Watkins' resignation, but to ask him to remain as head of the Association, with Mr. Budd serving as the active presiding officer. Exhibition chairman appointed were Mrs. Stanley E. Ginnings and Forest W. Orr, with K. Russell Mann in charge of goods for the year. Mrs. Robert Dalzell is treasurer, Mrs. Connor chairman of publicity.

THE SAGA OF SMOKY

She was just a little stray kitten, not over six weeks old. When first seen she was in the practice court at Gim Field, jumping round and round a third of a mile, her tail held high in the air. It was an unapproachable spirit, but her ready eyes alert for any bugs or grasshoppers. Knowing myself to be easy prey for this deadly variety of cat, I already having "K-K-K," who looks over my home and sternly to its intruders, I steered my way and continued on my way, hoping against hope that when I came back she would be gone. And, to be sure, she was. Assuming myself that probably some little girl or girl had taken her home with them, I went my way rejoicing. But I was not to escape so easily! When, several hours later, my daughter arrived from Boston, she had the kitten! She found her halfway down the north boulevard, in imminent danger of losing one of her nine lives. Her indomitable spirit still prevailed, and her tail was still held high (as it should be for it is an excellent tail). She had come in contact with some sticky substance, poor thing, yielding to the most patient lathering of a little pink tongue.

For three days she stayed with us, winning all hearts with her inimitable playful antics, sweet disposition, prodigious appetite, and her trick of lying in complete abandon on any convenient chair or cushion. (Having such intervals I clipped off most of the matted hair from the round little tummy—a process to which she submitted herself in perfect trust and confidence). She found our K-K's "clummy foot" and claimed it for her own, treating it to evolutions that, although a long-time veteran of immense deers' antlers, must have been new to it.

Smart, too, she found and utilized the catbox in the cellar in no time at all, and discovered on her second day with us how to let herself out the back screen door—without which elude our K-K's to this day. By now we had all come to love Smoky dearly, but one cat at a time is the rule at our house. Smoky took her leave of us, innumerable though we were, and is now at the Animal Shelter, 132 Washington street (Win. 1674) with other lovely pets—where she may be claimed by the first applicant who can promise her the respect due her ladyship and a loving home. You cannot fail to know her, for she is a real Maine coon in color, with a round little tummy and better-than-ordinary tail, and a personality that would stand out in any crowd! We can recommend her unreservedly; she's a darling if there ever was one. But if you want Smoky hurry! The Joneses.

The Police were notified Sunday evening that four boys had broken into the gun machine at the Railroad station. The quartet was apprehended on Roxbury road, and after admitting they were the guilty parties were taken to the Police Station and turned over to Sergeant Berro.

This week two men, one from Melrose and the other from Everett, were found fishing in the North Reservoir. Both were taken to the Winthrop Court and found guilty.

Mr. and Mrs. John Voss and family of Grove street are en route etc. were found attending a convention in San Francisco, Calif. they are traveling on way of the others route.

IN THE BALANCE

There's no margin for error in prescription work—not when health lies in the balance. That's why our scale is so delicately balanced that it can accurately measure a weight as infinitesimal as a pencil mark on a piece of paper. But precision instruments alone cannot assure accuracy. The professional skill and painstaking care of the pharmacist are of equal importance, and we put the fullest measure of these essentials into every prescription we compound.

FOOTBALL TOMORROW

Winchester Opens with Lexington at New Field

Winchester High opens its 1947 football season tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, playing host to Lexington at the new Manchester Field layout at the rear of the Junior High School. The game was originally scheduled for Lexington but because their new field is not ready it was transferred here.

The locals are neither as big nor as experienced as they were last year. Especially behind the line they will have no 200 pound bruiser like John West nor will there be any 165 pound blocker in Mario Buzzotta's shoes.

Little Sammy Bellino, up to 150 this year, will lead the team from his tailback slot and is reported to be better than ever with his added weight. With him in the backfield are Pete Dillingham, 160 pound wingback, who saw a lot of late season service last year; Paul Amico, sophomore fullback, weighing 160; and Dick Carroll, a senior, starting his first game at quarterback.

Carroll weighs 165 and is very willing. He is, however, woefully inexperienced and would be ordinarily subbing for Joe Amico, rangy blocker, who is definitely out with a leg infection which followed a slight operation. Joe's presence in the lineup would help a lot as he saw quite a bit of service a year ago.

Up front Winchester will have no 200 pounders like "Nanjo" Nichols and no experienced line-man like steady Bill Whitmore.

The locals are going to miss his blocking on line like the mischief. With Whitmore and Buzzotta behind the line Winchester was hard to break away on the past two years.

Bob Abrahamson, a fullback, though willing and improving right along, are still a long way behind those tried and hardy veterans.

WINCHESTER GIRL HAS BROADWAY OFFER

Ken Parker Wants Priscilla Morrill for Lead in New Play

Miss Priscilla Morrill, a graduate of Winchester High School, has been offered a Broadway play by Ken Parker, Boston playwright, to play the lead in the forthcoming production of his new mystery comedy, "Four Faces Up" in New York City.

Mr. Parker, 21 year old actor, director and producer, currently appearing in "Letting of 1948" at the Radio City Center Theatre, will turn producer to present a New York troupe of his play on Broadway.

He and Miss Morrill have worked together before, Mr. Parker directing the Winchester girl when she was appearing with the New London Players in New Hampshire in 1946. At that time Miss Morrill played the lead in "Three's a Family," handling the sophisticated humor written into her lines and business with great success.

This past summer Miss Morrill has again been with the New London Players, appearing in one of her productions and playing the lead in "Dear Ruth," "Years Ago," "Blind Alley" and "I Like It Here."

She is naturally thrilled to be offered a Broadway play, but her actual acceptance of Mr. Parker's offer will depend upon the attitude of the faculty of the Smith College, where she is a member of the Junior class.

If she does accept the offer, she will appear in "Four Faces Up" in New York City. The play is a comedy in three acts, written by Ken Parker.

LOIS LADD WINS

The Town Social Tennis Tournament for the first time in several years has brought forth new champions in the class of women's singles. Only some 15 persons participated this year, and whereas this low number is due in the first instance to a certain innate hesitancy on the part of the women and girls to enter the contest, we are also glad to report that the stock presented some of our players from competing.

Therefore, although the old-fashioned facts still please us, it was an additional pleasure to find two new personalities carry through to the women's singles final. Lois Ladd is a deep-rooted of Winchester, but school and work have kept her away from the courts previous to the current season. All of us have been delighted to watch her excellent tennis all season, so it was no surprise to anybody that she won the women's singles championship last Sunday morning and thus becomes the current holder of the William S. Parker cup.

Margie Norris, the runner-up for the championship, is the favorite daughter of Forbes Norris, our Superintendent of School, and has, of course, been in town only a short time. She arrived, however, with an excellent tennis background, and since she is entering Robins this fall, Lois and our other potential champs can do no resting upon laurels if they wish to continue at or near the top. Margie will be after them again next year when the results may be different. This time Lois won by the score of 6-1, 6-1; Margie took the third game of the first set and the fifth of the second. Lois' points were 26 and 29, Margie's 11 and 18.

BAPTIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

The Youth Fellowship of the First Baptist Church held its first meeting to the year Sunday evening, Sept. 11, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William J. Ekland, 1 La-grange street. There was a large and enthusiastic attendance to welcome the new director of Youth Activities, Miss Vivian Blundell, and the new advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Boatman.

After a short worship program, Rev. Walter Lee Butler introduced Miss Blundell and Mr. and Mrs. Boatman. A brief business session, at which new officers for the ensuing year were nominated, was followed by a social period of moving singing and refreshments.

SAMMY HIT WELL FOR CASEYS

Sammy Provizano of Florence street has been playing good ball this season in the outfield of the Casey Club of the Boston Park League.

In the recent playoff for the league championship, won by the Caseys from the Lineham Club of South Boston, four out of five games, Sammy played well and missed the old apple for a good 150.

Sammy has played for the Caseys for the last four seasons, except for a short while when he was playing minor league ball. He has hit .392 over the four years which is good sticking in any league. He is a brother of Frank Provizano, former B. C. athlete, recently appointed football coach at Ayr High School, and of Pete Provizano, former W. H. S. three sport star, now pitching in the Colonial League.

WILD HARE WINS TWO

Jack Streton, California's contribution to the Winchester Saddle Fleet, kept his "Wild Hare" scurrying like a scared rabbit, to add two more easy victories to his impressive record.

On Saturday afternoon with a brisk breeze blowing, Jack followed Al Litchfield's "Foray" for less than a lap, then moved his "Wild Hare" to the front and finished with the rest of the pack well in his wake. Bob Swanson saved second for "Sagace" and Al Litchfield was third.

Sunday morning's race started in a good breeze, then continued through a fall calm and a discouraging downpour. Through wind, willow and water, Jack kept the "Wild Hare" out front and was awarded the winner's horn just short of three hours later. Don Simonds' "Shibui" was second and John and Percy Powers placed third.

NOTICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS

CURTAILMENT OF GAS HEATING
INSTALLATIONS AFTER SEPTEMBER 30, 1947

We regret to announce that beginning Oct. 1, 1947 we shall be unable to supply gas for additional gas heating equipment to home and business establishments. It is expected that the period of restriction will cover approximately two years and it will apply to all heating units after Sept. 30, next, unless arrangements had been made with this company prior to August 15, last.

In taking this action, we are following steps recently taken by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company from which we purchase our gas supply. Heavy increases in demands for gas heating services, which require a greatly increased capacity for peak-days of cold weather, make this restriction necessary. The Boston Consolidated Gas Company, in order to solve its problem, found it necessary to request companies such as Arlington, to whom it sells gas, to make similar restrictions in their territories.

WE SHALL CONTINUE TO SUPPLY GAS FOR NEW KITCHEN HEATING IN UNITS BUILT INTO COOKING RANGES AND FOR SUCH PURPOSES AS NEW COOKING, WATER HEATING AND REFRIGERATION.

Arlington Gas Light Company has filed "Terms and Conditions of Service" with the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities regarding the curtailment of additional gas heating business.

CONDITION OF BRIDE
INJURED IN CRASH
IMPROVED

Winchester friends of the former Charlotte Garrison of North Street, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident following her marriage on Sept. 5, will be pleased to learn that her condition has improved somewhat since she was admitted to the hospital in Ellington, Md.

Mrs. Garrison and L. Campbell Bunting of Rossmore, Va., were married in Princeton, N. J., and were on their wedding trip when the automobile was in collision with a truck loaded with cattle which came from a cross-road and struck the newly-wed car on the left side about at the door.

Mrs. Bunting was driving and was thrown from the car, she and her husband both were injured. The accident occurred at Fair Hill, near Ellington, Md., and people living near the scene of the crash including the Buntings to the Ellington Hospital at Ellington, their prompt recovery undoubtedly saving the life of the bride, who was critically injured, sustaining a fractured skull, concussion of the brain, back injuries, nine broken ribs and cuts over her entire body. Mr. Bunting sustained a concussion and general shaking up but is reported as getting along all right.

Mrs. Bunting has made noticeable progress since entering the hospital and her physicians report she is doing as well as could be expected. Her parents joined her and her husband at the hospital and her mother is planning to remain there until her daughter can be moved.

Visitors in connection with the marriage commenced the day before when an aunt of the bride, Miss Greta Garrison of Lexington, Pa., who was driving to the wedding with her mother, the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Charles H. Shoenaker, fell from her car and sustained a sprained ankle.

Next morning, the wedding day, Mrs. Shoenaker, aged 70, died very suddenly at the Washington Inn where she and her daughter were staying, her death throwing much of the last minute detail upon Mrs. E. H. Bunting, who lived in town, who had accompanied the Garrissons to Princeton for the marriage.

The fatal mishap before the serious accident which befell the bride and groom occurred when Mrs. Warren Saul, sister of the bride, was driving to the altar, the bride's father, the altar, due to the extreme heat.

RED CROSS HOME NURSING

"Can you give warmly Willie a bath while he's snuggled down under the covers?" Or change invalid Ann Ophelia's sheet, without pitching her out on her head? These are just a few of the tactical problems which you will be taught to deal with efficiently by Mrs. Sidney Elliott when you enroll in the new Home Nursing course. The classes meet Tuesdays and Fridays beginning Sept. 23, from 9:30 to 11:30 for six sessions.

NO ADDITIONAL GAS

Everett C. Bryant, manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company announces that beginning Oct. 1, the local gas company will be able to supply gas for all domestic heating equipment in homes and business establishments.

The restriction will apply to all heating units installed after Sept. 20 unless arrangements had been made with the company prior to Sept. 15. It is expected that the period of restriction will cover approximately two years.

Mr. Bryant points out that in taking this action, Arlington Gas Light Company is following steps recently taken by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, from whom Arlington purchases its gas supply. This restriction is necessary because of the heavy increases in demands for gas heating services which require a greatly increased capacity for peak days of cold weather. Boston Consolidated, in order to solve its problem, found it necessary to restrict companies such as Arlington, to whom it sells gas, to make similar restrictions in their territories.

Arlington Gas Light Company has filed "Terms and Conditions of Service" with the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities regarding the curtailment of additional gas heating business. It was stressed, however, that it will continue to supply gas for new kitchen heating in units built in to a cooking range and for such purposes as new cooking, water heating, refrigeration and various commercial and industrial purposes.

WINCHESTER DOGS WIN AT BROCKTON

Walworth of Grafton, a German Shepherd dog owned by Virginia Ramsdell of Summit avenue, obtained her final championship points at the Brockton Fall Dog Show last Sunday. "Victory" as she is called, was best of her sex at this show. Fifteen points must be won by a dog before he is awarded a Certificate of Championship by the American Kennel Club; the dog is judged only on physical beauty, and the number of points given in each class depends on the number of dogs of the same breed entered.

Wolfe, a white shepherd puppy, owned by Janet Sargent of Wyman court, also received a blue ribbon at Brockton for being the best puppy of his breed.

NEW TRAIN ON VIEW

New Englanders will have an opportunity to inspect and use the General Motors Train of Tomorrow at the North Station of the Boston & Maine Railroad in Boston.

The train, with its four Astra home cars, diner, sleeper, coach and observation-lounge cars, will be open to the public from 2 to 4 p. m. at the North Station, commencing on next Wednesday, Sept. 24 and continuing through Sunday, Sept. 28, the announcement said.

In inviting the Train of Tomorrow to visit Boston, President Edward S. French of the Boston & Maine stated: "We have not, of course, any plans which would provide such trains as this on the Boston & Maine, comparatively short runs. This type of train is apt to find its widest usefulness in trans-continental or other long distance runs. We felt, however, that the thousands of New Englanders who do use trains for long trips over the country, each year, should have an opportunity to see and to inspect this innovation in train-travel accommodations and its exhibition at North Station for 5 days will provide this opportunity."

WINCHESTER MAN TO ADDRESS COST ACCOUNTANTS

Mr. Clinton W. Bennett of Winchester will address the members of Boston Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants, at the Boston City Club, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 24. The subject of his talk will be "A Case Study of a Small Business."

Mr. Bennett is a partner of the firm of Cooley & Marvin, Certified Public Accountants, and Managing Engineers of Boston, and has been a member of N. A. C. A. almost from its inception. He is also a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, member of the American Institute of Accountants, member and past president of the Mass. Society of Certified Public Accountants, member of the National Society of Professional Engineers, a Certified Public Accountant in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and South Carolina, a Registered Professional Engineer in Massachusetts. Mr. Bennett is generally recognized as one of the best informed members of N. A. C. A. on all phases of cost accounting and also as an interesting speaker.

President Thomas L. Morrison of Winchester, Faculty of Bentley School of Accounting and Finance will preside.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

Responding to the roll call, at the September meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association, were: Mesdames Kugel, Grosvenor, Spaulding, Drake, Conn, Johnson, Russell, Higgins, Connor, Moffette, Farnsworth, Dinnell, and Schneider.

The Executive Director was welcomed back from her sabbatical leave. During her absence, Miss Phyllis Connor was substitute nurse on the District, where she was as popular with her patients as she was with her fellow workers.

The nurses' report for a three months summer period showed 970 total visits made during the July and August, and 95 new patients.

Miss Alice Petersen, staff nurse, was attending a conference at Amherst, sponsored by the Massachusetts Public Health Association and the University of Massachusetts.

Under Mrs. O'Leary's instruction, two high school classes have been started in Home Nursing. It has been said that this is one of the most important courses for senior girls in the school program.

While the secretary is on vacation, volunteer members from the Board of Directors are covering the office.

The Nominating Chairman presented the names of two new Association members to fill the unexpired terms of Mrs. Harlow Russell and Mrs. George Chaffield. All Association members, including the two new ones, Mrs. Thomas Downes and Mrs. Walcott Thompson, will be invited to the Board meeting on Oct. 16, in the Wadleigh School Building.

Mrs. George Connor gave a report on "What Volunteer Health Agencies Can Do to Increase Their Effectiveness," an interesting chapter taken from the Gunn-Platt Survey of Social and Health Agencies. One of the points brought out in the discussion period was the importance for directors and members to educate themselves through available reading material such as the Board Members Manual (which describes the duties of directors, association members, executive, staff and committee members) and the Public Health Nursing magazine (a monthly publication, which can be found in the Winchester Public Library. Such information gives a better understanding and further stimulates interest in the activities of the Winchester District Nursing Association, as well as other public health agencies.

THE RH BLOOD FACTOR

(One of a series of informational articles for the layman, sponsored by the staff of the Winchester Hospital)

Prior to 1939 there was no clear explanation for the appearance about once in 300 or 400 births of a child with clear evidence of anemia and other, also, gross physical abnormality. The infant was usually stillborn or survived birth by only a short time. Eight years ago the veil of mystery was partially lifted by the discovery of certain new facts about human blood. Various aspects of the condition had been recognized for many years and had been called by many different names. In 1932 Blackfan and Diamond at the Children's Hospital gave a clear picture of these various aspects and named the condition erythroblastosis foetalis. The cause of the disease was, however, totally unknown.

In the course of a study of deaths due to transfusion reactions, it was found that many of these deaths had occurred in mothers who had given birth to one or more anemic babies. Further study showed that these individuals had no Rh factor in their blood. This Rh factor had been discovered in the early 1900's before the discovery of the much more important blood types. It was called Rh factor because the blood cells of the Rhesus monkey were used in the investigation. No one realized for more than 40 years that this factor had any clinical significance as the subsequent discovery of the various blood types explained most transfusion reactions.

With the discovery of the importance of the Rh factor many hitherto mysterious situations could be explained. It was found that 85% of the white race have the Rh factor in their blood and 15% do not. Quite naturally, the 85% are called Rh positive and the 15% Rh negative. Both types belong to normal healthy human beings. When, however, Rh positive blood is given to an Rh negative individual, that person develops in his blood an antibody for Rh positive blood, so that whenever his blood comes in contact with Rh positive blood, the Rh positive blood cells clump together and are destroyed. The transfusion reaction deaths are caused by these clumped cells blocking up the kidneys of the recipient. These transfusion reactions may be prevented by being certain that an Rh negative person receives only Rh negative blood.

Blood is always tested for Rh factor when it is typed. Rh positive persons are not harmed by Rh negative blood, but Rh negative individuals must not be given Rh positive blood. The search for Rh negative donors (15% of the general population) of proper blood type is sometimes difficult, and to avoid delay which might be fatal, deposits of stored blood have been established by various hospitals and more recently by the Commonwealth. The Winchester Hospital is always prepared to supply such blood when needed for transfusion.

This is relatively simple, but the problem of the anemic baby is not so easily solved. The blood of these babies is destroyed by the anti-Rh in the mother's blood. Obviously Rh positive mothers will have no trouble. Similarly, Rh negative babies will be safe. To develop this disease we must have an Rh positive baby in an Rh negative mother. Even then, very fortunately, the disease develops only in a small percentage of cases when the Rh negative mother has developed anti-Rh blood in her blood stream.

How then does the mother develop anti-Rh? The answer is (1) if she has received Rh positive blood by transfusion or injection, or (2) if due to some unusual and poorly understood situation, there is enough mingling of the baby's Rh positive blood with her blood to initiate the development of anti-Rh. By watching for and measuring the anti-Rh in the mother's blood we can predict with some assurance of anemia in the baby. Provided that the baby has reached a stage of growth compatible with survival, early delivery and prompt transfusion of the baby with Rh negative blood will save a good many babies. The Winchester Hospital is fully equipped to take proper care of these patients. Although in some cases the disease occurs at such an early stage of the baby's life development that its life cannot be saved, the Winchester Hospital has been very fortunate—since the initiation of these procedures—in having lost no babies with erythroblastosis.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT CLUB

Due to the inclement weather last Saturday evening, the lobster dinner of the Wednesday Night Club was held at the Parish House at the church instead of at the Boat Club as originally planned.

One hundred and fifteen members were served by the committee in charge which was made up of the officers and their respective husbands and wives: Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Huskins, Mr. and Mrs. Allan O. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hungeford, and Mr. and Mrs. Tucker M. Yee. During dinner there was a great deal of conversation about the program for the year which was sent out to the members recently. After dinner a song-fest was ably directed by Dr. F. Milne Blanchard accompanied by Mrs. Robert Howe at the piano.

BRaille CLASSES

The war, with its many demands on volunteer services, is now over and routines are setting into the accustomed grooves, but there will always be one service accorded by volunteers which will not diminish in urgency—that is, the hand transcription of Braille.

The previous total of 200,000 blind persons in the United States has been equalled by approximately 15,000 blind servicemen.

The National Braille Press, Inc., 55 St. Stephen street, Boston, Conn. 6000, will hold classes in the hand transcription of Braille, so that sighted persons may furnish the material required by the blind.

Registration for classes will be held Monday, Sept. 22, from 2-4 in the afternoon and 6-8 in the evening. Class instruction will begin the following week, with a class on Monday afternoon, 2-4 and Wednesday evening, 7-8.

Volunteers are urgently needed to carry on this important program. Won't you share your sight and spare hours with these handicapped persons? Call Mrs. Sumner C. Jacobs, Volunteer Chairman, Hand Transcribing Division, 2 Meadowcroft road, Win. 1397 for further details.

Tuesday morning a woman from Woburn drove her Nash sedan to Winchester station and took the 8:12 train for Boston, carefully locking her car before she left. This was all right until some sort of trouble caused the motor to start and keep right on running. Officer Farrell was notified and got in touch with Headquarters where the owner of the machine was finally found at work in Boston. Could she come out? She couldn't right then! Consequently Officer Bowler went to the station and with the assistance of a few men, succeeded in stopping the motor. Later the owner of the car did come to Winchester and in response to her SOS, Officer Bowler again visited the station and made the necessary adjustment which enabled the lady to drive on her way rejoicing.

SCOUTS BENEFIT FROM RED FEATHER CAMPAIGN

Two of our Red Feather agencies in Winchester are parts of organizations of international scope—the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts. The recent Boy Scout gathering in France, with delegates from all parts of the world, emphasized the importance of this group as a possible agency to work for the friendship and peace of all nations. Our Boy Scouts here are vital and active and a credit to the organization, to the town and to their leaders. They have six troops, and a troop of Sea Scouts and an Explorer Post, with four Cub Packs.

The Girl Scouts are of particular interest at this time, showing as they do the evidence of vigorous, healthy growth, not only in numbers, but in their varied and original activities. In 1946 they had 373 members with 80 leaders and now they have 490 members with 149 leaders and have increased their troops from 18 to 24. In addition to regular troop meetings, they have had an active day camp, with a swimming instructor and a nursery unit, to accommodate the leaders who have young children. The hostel trips for seniors have been most successful.

The Service work of the Girl Scouts has not been confined to this vicinity, but has been worldwide. Each troop has sent seed packets to a different country abroad—clothes, books, etc., have gone to France, Norway, Sweden, and the Philippines boxes especially packed with camping equipment have been sent to England. This year, as a project, our Girl Scouts are planning to send abroad "Party Boxes," with favors, candies and prepared foods so that Scouts in war-torn countries may have real parties.

Last year our Winchester Girl Scouts started a new troop for the seniors—a Ski Troop, the only one in the country, save for one in Alaska. They now have two of these Storrow Troops, named for Mrs. James Storrow. These troops are not limited in scope, as the name might imply, but cover all outdoor activities, which the members in turn teach to the younger girls. There are also a Marine Troop and a Wing Scout troop for the seniors and with these new and special provisions it is easy to understand how the senior group has grown from eight members two years ago to 45 today.

The Girl Scout organization is grateful to the Winchester Hospital for the opportunity it has given to 20 girls by training them as hospital aides. Many of the

NEW COLLIER NAMED FOR WINCHESTER

The town of Winchester was honored recently by the Mystic Steamship Division, Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates, when the company selected the name S. S. "Winchester" for one of its fleet of new Liberty-type colliers.

The "Winchester" is one of ten new colliers recently purchased by Mystic Steamship Division from the United States Maritime Commission. The Mystic fleet carries bituminous coal from Norfolk, Va., to Eastern Gas and Fuel companies and coal docks along the eastern seaboard. The "Winchester" will be used principally in the run to the Eastern Gas and Fuel company plant in Everett.

The new "Winchester" is one of a number of colliers which played such a vital part in winning the war. Mystic engineers and naval architects gave important assistance to the Maritime Commission in constructing these vessels for coal cargoes.

on operation, the having an capacity of 10,000 tons, including the "Winchester" is capable of carrying 15,000 tons of coal net tons each.

The "Operation White Tower" expedition to Mt. McKinley, which Bradford Washburn will describe in his lecture on Friday evening, Oct. 17, at 8:15 in the High School auditorium, was jointly sponsored by the New England Museum of Natural History, of which he is the director; RKO Radio Pictures, and Northwest Airlines with the assistance of the Army Air Force. Speaking on "The Conquest of Mt. McKinley," Mr. Washburn is making his first public appearance here under the auspices of the Winchester Mothers' Association for the benefit of their scholarship fund.

Mr. Washburn's party, including Mrs. Washburn, lived on the mountain for 90 days, 32 days above 15,000 feet without oxygen, encountering temperatures this past June down to 20 degrees below zero, as well as terrific wind and snowstorms. Mr. Washburn will illustrate his lecture with the beautiful motion pictures which he took throughout the trip.

Assisting Mrs. Lyndon B. Burnham, general chairman of the committee, is Mrs. Arthur T. Hertz, who is in charge of all ticket distribution and sales. Working with her are Mrs. Henry A. Belcher, Mrs. Frank C. d'Elzeaux, Mrs. Lewis M. Foster, Mrs. George H. Gowdy, Mrs. Charles W. Lewis, Mrs. Harvey L. Macanley, Mrs. George A. Marks, Mrs. John McDermott, Mrs. Edward H. Nicaragua

Cerro Negro (Black Hill), erupting after several quiescent years, rises to 3,200 feet above sea level a dozen miles northeast of the city of Leon in the chain of 23 or more volcanoes along the west coast of Nicaragua.

The cone that has buried a big coffee-growing area under black sand, heaping four inches upon four inches, is part of a group known as Las Pilas. The name is taken from a somewhat higher crater three miles to Cerro Negro's east. Cerro Montoso and Asososco are other craters of the Las Pilas cluster, says the National Geographic Society.

Prime Volcanic Area
Eruptions in 1850, 1867, 1914, and 1923 considerably changed the shape of Cerro Negro and the contours of the countryside. They temporarily paralyzed the agriculture which thrives on the fertility of volcanic ash, just as the eruption has done. In addition to coffee, cotton, beans, castor and sesame seed, and tomatos are grown. The latter is tall grass that may be the ancestor of maize, or Indian corn.

Leon, philosophical about the recent fury of Cerro Negro, Tequila, Las Pilas, and Momotombo of the volcanic chain, is Nicaragua's second city, counting 50,000 residents. A farming center and junction for Corinto, the Republic's chief west-coast port, Leon preserves the atmosphere of early colonial days. It is built around the pre-conquest Indian village of Subitela.

The prevalent winds blow from Cerro Negro toward Leon and the Pacific, burning the black dirt falls, women do their shopping under umbrellas. Small industries shut down because of the penetrating ash, and railroad gangs shovel and sweep to keep the lines open. The deposit by late July exceeded two feet along a branch line three miles from the crater, according to a dispatch received by the National Geographic Society from the region.

The Nicaraguan volcanoes are part of the South American chain that extends from Mexico's southern coast to Panama. Like the Javan-Sumatra chain and the Aleutians, the two other principal volcanic chains of the world, it is most active in its central portion.

Canal Plan Deterred
At the northwest end of the Nicaraguan chain is squat, topless Cosigüina, with a cone in the shape of a volcano which it topped on Jan. 20, 1835, is ranked among the modern blazes a second-century volcano. The "Winchester" will be used principally in the run to the Eastern Gas and Fuel company plant in Everett.

The new "Winchester" is one of a number of colliers which played such a vital part in winning the war. Mystic engineers and naval architects gave important assistance to the Maritime Commission in constructing these vessels for coal cargoes.

ST. MARY'S GIRLS SOFTBALL TEAM LOSE FINAL GAME

In a game that was to establish the championship for the Archdiocese of Boston, St. Mary's lost by a score of 10 to 1 to St. Bridget's of South Boston.

The game was played at Marine Park in South Boston, on Sunday afternoon, and many loyal fans were there to cheer our girls on, though it was for a lost cause. Peggy O'Leary pitched a beautiful game, allowing nine hits, two earned runs, and struck out 11. She made three hits out of four times at bat, twice striking out batters in a manner that would do credit to any major league ball player.

Ginger Frongillo scored the only run for St. Mary's with a terrific home run over the centerfielder's head. Lucky Baldacci hit out a terrific triple. St. Bridget's girls were the opponents, showing clearly the results of their three years' playing experience as a team, while this was the first year for our girls. St. Mary's team, having won the championship in the Essex County league after their first year, are now looking forward to next year with another chance to enjoy the fun and sport of competition in softball.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Chief Auto-aircraft Technician Malcolin C. Goss, USNR, chief petty officer in charge of transportation at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Squantum, presented an interesting moving picture in technical color entitled "The Story of the Week" at the weekly meeting of the Winchester Rotary Club. This picture covered the work done by the U. S. Naval Air Station during the recent war and held the attention of a record attendance until the end.

Among the numerous visiting Rotarians and guests were Karl H. Sheeha, past president of the Waikiki Rotary Club in Honolulu. He is on a world cruise and came with Walter Wilson of the Woburn club.

The speaker on next Thursday will be Joe Mitchell Chapple, well-known lecturer. A large attendance is anticipated.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT FIGURES

Comparative School Membership	Sept. 1946	Sept. 1947
High School	1946	1947
Junior-High School	1946	1947
Junior-School	1946	1947
Public School	1946	1947
Nonpublic School	1946	1947
Winn. School	1946	1947
Total	2416	2121

Dr. Forbes H. Norris, superintendent of schools, has presented attendance figures which show that the total membership of Winchester Public Schools is now 2433. This is a gain of 37 over the comparable 1946 figures.

The High School has virtually the same membership as in September, 1946, but last June High School has 36 more pupils than last year. In the other schools, Lincoln has 18 fewer pupils this year; Washington has four more; Mystic has 15 more; Wynnham has the same number as last year, 147; and Noonan has three more.

Although the total rise in school membership is not large, it has been necessary to add one third-grade class at Lincoln; one first-grade class at Washington; and one third-grade class at Noonan. At Mystic and Wynnham the number of pupils in each class runs higher than in the other schools, and slight increases in enrollment will mean additional classes in those schools.

Present indications are that a part-time teacher of Industrial Arts will have to be added to the high school staff, because of the number of boys seeking instruction in mechanical drawing and printing. Several boys have not been able to enroll in those two subjects because Mr. Branley's classes are filled.

Mr. Joseph Aversa, a graduate of the Boston Industrial Arts Training School, has been engaged as a part-time instructor in printing. Mr. Aversa's taking over three classes in printing daily, makes it possible for Mr. Branley to instruct in mechanical drawing all boys who have applied for the course.

Mrs. Marianne E. Quirk has been appointed permanent substitute teacher of first grade at the Mystic School, thus making it possible to have two first grade classes there.

Prophecy 1641—Fate 1947

Tenth of this 17th century prophecy is tragic fact today. Follow these time-tested road rules. They will save lives, perhaps yours.

1. Follow the line of traffic; don't be a traffic weaver.
2. Keep your position on hill and curve. If you want to pass a car, do it on the level straightaway.
3. Be watchful for children.
4. Wait for the signal to "go"; don't "jump" the lights.
